WOMEN GATHER TO MAKE DASH

Crusading Suffragists Will Sweep Down on Senate Tomorrow.

AUTO PARADE TO PRESENT PETITION

Washington Police Prepare to Guard Against Possible Disorder.

Washington, July 30.—The advance guard of the crusading suffragists converging on the capital by automobile from all parts of the country, is gathering today in Hyattsville, Md., in preparation for the automobile parade to the capital tomorrow, when the women will present to the senate petitions asking for "votes for women."

Among the arrivals was Miss Margaret Foley, of Boston, known to her sisters as the "suffragist whirlwind," because of her oratorical powers. A dozen other states, in addition to Massachusetts, were represented by dusty, but enthusiastic automobile loads of women who, on their journey to the rendezvous, had preached the "cause."

In order that there may be no repetition of the scenes that marked the big suffrage parade of March third, Superintendent of Police Sylvester will provide a heavy escore of mounted and bicycle policemen to accompany the women on their parade to the capital. A permit for the procession already has been issued. The start for Washington will be made with the intention of arriving at the capital just at noon, when the senate convenes.

Washington, July 30.—Charging that democratic leaders have broken their tariff promises made to the working people of New England before the last national election Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut, assailed the Underwood-Simmons bill in the senate today.

Recounting the campaign in Connecticut directed particularly against Representative Ebenezer Hill of the Ways and Means committee Senator McLean quoted from speeches made by Majority Leader Underwood, Secretary of Commerce, Redfield, Representative Reilley and Gov. S. E. Baldwin whom

NEW HAMPSHIRE VILLAGE IS APPENDIXLESS TOWN.

Colebrook, N. H., July 30.—In this town of 2,000 inhabitants over 200 persons have recently undergone operations for appendicitis, a record which is not equalled by any five town combined in the White mountains. Operations continue at the rate of about two a week, and in many instances dinners and dances are arranged either before the operation or after the patient's convalescence in celebration of another name enrolled on the appendicitis list. The place has been dubbed locally "the appendixless town."

GEM HARVEST GROWS RICHER

New $150,000 Jewel Robbery Comes to Light at Narragansett Pier.

HANAN SUMMER HOME IS LOOTED

Husband, Very Ill, is Kept in Ignorance of His Heavy Loss.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 30.—Jewelry worth at least $150,000 was stolen from Shore Acres, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hanan, of New York, Friday night. The $75,000 robbery in the home of C. C. Rumsey, son-in-law of the late E. H. Harriman, occurred on Saturday night.

Reports that the Hanans had been robbed were denied until today, when Mrs. Hanan told the story of their loss. Mr. Hanan is seriously ill and has been kept in ignorance of the robbery. An unwillingness to disturb him influenced his wife to withhold the facts until this time. The articles included a diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, two diamond encrusted watches, a set of star sapphires surrounded by diamonds, a pendant, a brooch and a pair of rare black diamond ear rings surrounded by white diamonds.

A peculiar feature of the robbery is that some particularly valuable gems were left in the bureau drawer from which the others were removed. They could hardly have been overlooked and this suggests that the job was a hurried one.

Mrs. Hanan seldom wears the jewels and would not ordinarily have had them at Shore Acres. They had been brought over from New York at a time when she had expected to give her annual reception to Governor and Mrs. Pothier. The illness of Mr. Hanan made it necessary to cancel the function.

The jewelry was taken from Mrs. Hanan's boudoir a few moments after she had left the house to attend a reception. The loss was discovered within thirty minutes, but although three detective agencies have been working in the case since Monday morning, no tangible clew has been found.

CRUCIAL TEST IN MINE STRIKE DUE

Much Hinges on Outcome of Proposal for Lansing Conference.

COMPANIES ARE WARY

Calumet, Mich., July 30.—A crucial incident in the copper mine strike was scheduled for development today, the operators having been asked by General P. L. Abbey to consider proposals emanating from Lansing that a conference between employers and employes be held in the governor's office.

The attitude of the companies, it was freely predicted, would be none too friendly to the plan inasmuch as the operators considered it would place them in the position of recognizing the Western Federation of Miners to at least some degree. They were chary of indorsing the scheme also because its pronouncement was coincident with the presence in Lansing of C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the federation.

The union leaders here were still jubilant over the outcome of Mahoney's visit and expressed the belief that failure of the companies to act on the suggestion of the governor would result in an early with-drawal of at least a part of the state troops.

The military men had an investigation of their own on their hands in connection with the wounding of a striker

CALL FOR INDEPENDENT MASS MEETING

TO COME TO WORK VIA FLYING BOAT

Harold McCormick Elated at Thirty-Mile Trip in Hydro-Aeroplane.

CHICAGO CHEERS HIM

Chicago, July 30.—Harold F. McCormick made a successful flight in his new hydro-aeroplane today from his summer residence in Lake Forest over the waters of Lake Michigan to Grant park, Chicago, a distance of thirty miles.

Mr. McCormick made the trip in 68 minutes, or at a speed of more than a mile a minute. The machine was driven by Charles C. Witmer. The flight was made at an average height of about sixty feet.

Mr. McCormick was so well pleased with the experience that he intends using his flying boat to come down to business every day this summer unless storms prevent. The machine has been christened "Edith" after Mrs. McCormick, who was formerly Miss Edith Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller. The craft behaved splendidly all the way, the engine never missing a stroke, the great wings evenly balanced and the boat's body holding true and steady.

All along the lake shore crowds cheered the rapidly moving craft and waved hats and handkerchiefs. A number of small yachts were passed, the flying boat skimming over them.

The landing at the south end of Grant park was made gracefully and with precision and a crowd soon gathered to inspect the boat and congratulate the passengers.

BALL'S BOND IS FIXED AT $5,000

Guard Officers to Furnish Bail for Militiaman in Murder Charge

RALSTON WILL AID

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30.—Bail bond for Sergeant Edwin Ball, of the Indiana National guard, who was indicted late yesterday by the Marion county grand jury for first degree murder for shooting Private Dowell of the Madison company, was fixed at $5,000 by Judge Collier today. Officers of the guard were expected to furnish the bail before they leave the camp at Fort Harrison this afternoon.

Sergeant Ball shot Dowell when the latter, who had been arrested by Ball accused of bootlegging liquor into camp, tried to escape a week ago. Sergeant Ball took Dowell to St. Vincent's hospital where he died Sunday.

Ball was arrested by the police after the shooting but was returned to the military authorities the next morning by Judge Collins.

There has been considerable question over who shall have custody of the prisoner and it is believed that will be the first question to be decided when the case comes up for trial, whether it shall be a civil trial or a court martial. Ball's home is in Indianapolis.

Dowell's body was shipped to Madison yesterday and the funeral will be held this afternoon. The Madison company, which was one of the first to get away when the camp broke up today, will serve as an escort at the funeral.

WOULDN'T GO ALL THE WAY

But Advises a Restricted Recognition of Huerta Rule in Mexico.

AMBASSADOR GIVES PLAN TO SENATORS

No Action Taken in Secret Session of Senate Committee.

Washington, July 30. Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson recommended a restricted recognition of the Huerta government in Mexico at a secret conference with the senate foreign relations committee today but the senators took no action.

The details of his plan were not divulged at the time but some of the republican senators said the ambassador had made a favorable impression, not necessarily as to his plan, but as to his whole story of events in Mexico.

Ambassador Wilson conferred with the senate foreign relations committee in executive session today giving his views on the Mexican situation. It was evident that Senators had been looking forward to first hand information from the ambassador. The conference began promptly at the hour set. Secretary Bryan was not present.

Ambassador Wilson began with a chronological recital of his personal observations of the stirring events in Mexico beginning at the abdication of Porfirio Diaz and spoke at length of the downfall of Madero and the rise of Huerta.

The committee was supposed to let the ambassador tell his story in his own way and for more than two hours he continued an almost continuous narrative interrupted occasionally by a question from a senator. Extraordinary injunctions of secrecy were placed on all senators in the conference but it was evident that the committee was listening attentively and that no disposition to cross examine the ambassador developed, at least, during the first part of the conference.

HE'S CHAMPION BEEFSTEAK EATER OF THE EAST SIDE.

New York, July 30.—The annual beefsteak eating contest of the Sam Breaner association of the East Side was won yesterday by Frank Dostal, the "Mayor of Avenue B," who disposed of eight and three-quarter pounds of steak. Three other competitors ate between five and eight pounds each.

WASHINGTON IS HIT BY A GALE

National Capital Swept by Terrific Wind, Rain and Hail Storm.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Washington, July 30.—A terrific wind, rain and hail storm swept the capital late today, paralyzing telephone and street car service, and doing much property damage. Scores of vehicles were overturned in the streets. No fatalities but many narrow escapes had been reported at 3.30 p. m.

Four painters working on a swinging scaffold atop the dome of the capitol were caught in the gale, more than 150 feet above ground. As the storm abated rescue parties went to their assistance. An immense crowd gathered at the American league park for the Washington-Detroit game was caught in the gale. As all telephone operators abandoned their switchboard in panic, reports of the actual results of the storm were slow coming in.

As the storm cleared reports of houses unroofed and demolished began to trickle into police headquarters but without definite information of loss of life or injury. It seemed that the property loss at least would be large.

Several persons were reported injured in the wreck of a demolished building, not seriously. The pension office, postoffice and other government buildings had large holes torn in their roofs by lightning.

It was found that the four men caught on the dome of the capitol weathered the gale safely and were taken from their perilous position exhausted.

TROOPS START FOR HOME.

Indiana National Guardsmen Quit Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Indianapolis, July 30.—Before nightfall Fort Benjamin Harrison will be deserted by Indiana national guardsmen, who began departing for their homes early today after their annual ten-day camp of instruction at the fort. The signal corps was the first to get away, marching overland to its home station in Indianapolis. Major John J. Boaz, commanding the hospital corps, says the camp just closed was notable for its good health, despite the hot weather. Only fifty-six out of the 1,500 men in camp were given medical treatment and it was not necessary to send any of them to the hospital when the homeward trip began today.

CHOICE FALLS ON C. H. BUCK

Will Be Recommended as Independent Nominee for Mayor.

COMMITTEE IS FRAMING REPORT

Preble for Clerk and Mungovan for Judge-Other Selections

The citizens' non partisan committee of thirty today made public the fact that it will recommend the nomination of Charles H. Buck as the independent candidate for mayor to the mass convention to be held at the court house assembly room on Friday evening.

By like decision of the committee, Charles M. Preble will be endorsed for nomination as city clerk and J. Frank Mungovan, the present occupant of the bench, for judge of the municipal court.

It is said the recommendations for councilmen at-large have not yet been definitely agreed upon, but will be submitted with the report which the committee will make to the convention.

Is Well Known Grocer.

Mr. Buck, who will be recommended as the independent nominee for mayor, is a well known grocer with a place of business on Broadway. He is a native of Fort Wayne, born here in 1857, and as a boy learned the printer's trade, working at various times on the old Volksfreund and later on other local newspapers.

He was elected to the city council in 1893 from the Fifth ward and served for three years under Mayor Zollinger and Mayor Scherer. Later he was appointed by Mayor Scherer a member of

WATSON BEFORE A GRAND JURY?

That's the Rumor in Washington Regarding the Mulhall Charges.

CLASH IN PROSPECT

Washington, July 30.—It was reported here today without official confirmation that former Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana, who figured prominently in the lobby charges of Martin M. Mulhall, had appeared before a federal grand jury in connection with an investigation of Mulhall's story.

Although Mulhall, lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, expected to face the lawyers for the association for cross examination, the senate committee continued his identification of letters.

Mulhall introduced a two page list of organizations he said were members of the national council for industrial defense and affiliated with the manufacturers. There is a dispute as to the exact connection between the two organizations. He swore he had personal relations with officials of about a dozen of the organizations named.

It was indicated that sessions of the committee may not be so harmonious when it comes to cross examination of the witness. Senator Reed frequently came to Mulhall's aid.

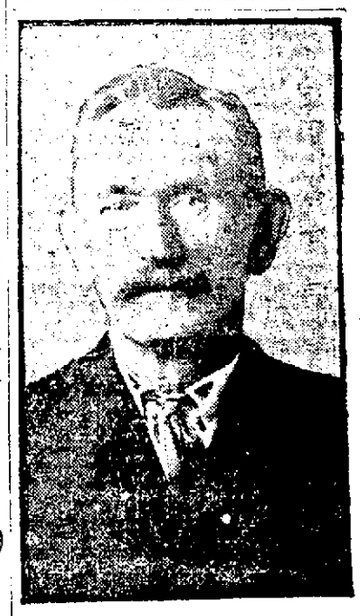
HEAT DRIVES MAN TO DEATH

John C. Rost, Retired Shopman, Ends His Life With a Noose.

LOADED MUSKET TO MAKE DOUBLY SURE

Aged Man's Mind Thought to Have Been Temporarily Deranged by Heat.

Believed to have been temporarily demented on account of the heat which brought on a severe attack of asthma, John C. Rost, aged seventy-five years, a retired Pennsylvania blacksmith, went to a shed at the rear of his home at 450 Masterson avenue at an early hour this morning and choked himself to death. His body was found by his aged wife when she missed him from his bed.



JOHN C. ROST.

The veteran shopman had fastened a rope to the rafters of the shed and placed the noose on the other end of the rope under his chin, leaning forward until death resulted from strangulation. When found his feet were both touching the floor of the shed, according to Mrs. Rost.

As if to make sure of death, in case his first attempt failed, the aged man had placed a loaded army musket by his side, and it is believed that had

KANSAS GRASSHOPPERS STALL RAILROAD TRAIN.

Dodge City, Kas., July 30.—"Train No. 564 delayed forty minutes; stalled by grasshoppers."

That was the report received at the Rock Island station here today. The train was coming out of Ford when it struck a deep cut where "hoppers" covered the rails. As the engine wheels crushed them the rails became so slippery that the drivers spun round and the train stopped.

The crew with shovels finally scooped the hoppers off the track and covered the rails with sand before the train could proceed.

Helping to Pay the Rent

A FEW DAYS AGO, a small boy about five years of age appeared at the door of the residence of Mr and Mrs. O. N. Guldlin, 2306 Fairfield avenue, and rang the bell. Mrs. Guldlin responded. The lad stated that he was looking for work.

"You?" responded Mrs. Guldlin, laughlingly, "such a little boy as you are, looking for work?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the boy, "I must earn some money to help pay the rent."

Although the lad was nicely dressed, Mrs. Guldlin concluded to test him out; so she arranged that if he would come to her home each day and pull weeds for twenty minutes, she would pay him sixty cents per week.

Mrs. Guldlin has always been deeply interested in children—indeed, promotion of the interests of playgrounds and school gardens, and the work for the general welfare of the children, has felt the influence of her efforts. So, in this case, she became interested immediately.

A few days after the foregoing event, Mrs. Guldlin was present at a social gathering. Mrs. Ollie Johnson, of Vineland, New Jersey, who is spending the summer in Fort Wayne, was also in attendance. Mrs. Johnson, with her little five-year-old son are stopping at No. 3102 Fairfield avenue. The husband of Mrs. Johnson is the superintendent of an important school at Vineland and the family residence is connected with the institution. The boy had, therefore, never heard of such a common business transaction as paying rent. So, when the time came for his mother to recompense their landlady for the use of rooms at her home, he inquired interestingly what it was all about.

"I must earn some money."

"I'm just paying the rent, that's all," explained his mother. But the explanation didn't explain and the details of the transaction were thoroughly reviewed. After the explanation was finished, the lad looked very serious about it all, and announced that he was going to earn some money to help pay the rent. He left immediately to carry out his resolution. He returned, and announced that he had secured a place to pull weeds for twenty minutes a day for sixty cents a week. Mrs. Johnson, telling the story at the social gathering, was interrupted by Mrs. Guldlin who related her end of the narrative, amidst the merriment of everyone who heard the story.

death not followed by choking, he would have tried to shoot himself.

For several months Mr. Rost had been in ill health, suffering from asthma. His condition had been serious for the last few days and Tuesday night, before retiring he told his wife that he did not think he could live until morning. During the evening members of the family who reside in another part of town, had been at the home and before leaving for the night went to the drug store nearby and purchased some medicine for Mr. Rost. When he retired with his wife he was suffering terribly from the heat and about midnight arose from bed. Mrs. Rost also arose and placed some bed clothing in a large Morris chair so he could rest more comfortably. Mr. Rost told her to return to bed and he would come as soon as he felt better. She waited for him some time, and fell asleep when he told her that he would retire immediately.

Took Gun With Him.

The aged man waited until he was sure Mrs. Rost was asleep, and then took his old army musket and a rope with him to the shed. Mrs. Rost awoke about 2:30 o'clock and alarmed over his absence, rushed to the yard at the rear of the house. Not seeing him there she went to the shed and found his body partially suspended from the rafters. The veteran shopman had placed his head through the noose on the end of the rope and leaned forward with both feet touching the floor.

Coroner E. H. Kruse was called and in the examination found that death had been produced by strangulation.

In Shops Thirty-Five Years.

Mr. Rost was born in Germany September 14, 1838, and came to this country at the age of twenty-nine years. After a short time in the east he came to Fort Wayne and took employment with the Pennsylvania company in 1872. For thirty-five years he was employed in the blacksmith shops of the company in this city, and retired on a pension five years ago. His health had never been good since he left the shops.

The aged man was one of the best known shopmen in the city. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Relief union and was actively interested at all times in the affairs of the company which he represented. News of his tragic death this morning spread about the shops and caused unlimited sorrow among his former associates.

Mr. and Mrs. Rost were married forty-five years ago, and surviving besides the widow, who is nearly prostrated with grief, he leaves eight children.

The remains will be removed to the home of Mrs. Lagemann, 3018 Weisser Park avenue, where funeral services will be held Saturday at an hour to be announced later.

CITY WILL FIGHT THE INJUNCTION

Will Stand for Razing of Old Buildings Under Condemnation.

NEWS OF CITY HALL

The city government will make a fight on the injunction secured today in the circuit court by the People's Realty and Investment company to prevent the destruction of the old building at 237 West Superior street recently condemned by the special commission created for that purpose.

Notice of the injunction granted by Judge Eggeman was served on Building Inspector Philip H. Wyss this afternoon.

"There is nothing to do but to go into court and contest the temporary restraining order when the time comes," said Mayor Grice this afternoon. "We believe that and other buildings condemned should come down and we are ready to have this case and any others tried on their merits."

The thirty day limit on a number of condemned buildings expired today, but in all but one of these cases the owners have asked for and have been granted an extension of time in behalf of tenants. Several of the buildings are either down or in process of destruction.

SAFETY BOARD NEEDS $196,703.

Budget for Coming Year is Made Up for the Comptroller.

The board of safety wants appropriations aggregating $196,703 to carry on its functions next year. This was the judgment after last night's special meeting when the needs of the department were canvassed and the items totaled. Last year the board asked for $173,000 and got a little less than that. In this year's budget the salaries of the members of the board, the board's clerk and the city sealer are included together with increases of policemen's increased salary by reason of seniorities, the pay of eight additional men needed in the fire department, increases for eight captains and eight lieutenants and the pay of thirteen additional men requested for the police department. The police department wants another motorcycle and the installation of two more tower signal lights. These are recommended. The police department also wants ten more patrolmen, some of them for the traffic squad, and also three additional men for the detective bureau, which will be placed under charge of a captain. No provision is asked and no recommendation made for the motorizing of the two new aerial trucks. The figures for the police and fire departments compared with the requests of last year are as follows:

	1912.	1913.
Police Department
Salaries and payroll	$69,840	$76,464
Police station acct.	2,840	1,820
Fire Department	1912.	1913.
Salaries and payroll	$80,425	$94,350
Fire Dept. acct.	20,225	17,655

At last night's meeting of the board Mark Hall, a sanitary policeman under suspension by the board of health, was dismissed, and S. Bowman, well-known newspaper solicitor, was appointed to the place and will assume his duties tomorrow.

FINDS SOME BAD CONDITIONS.

Small Bakeshops and Some Fruit and Candy Stores Show Poorly.

Dr. George Gillie, inspector for the health department, has found some bad conditions in a number of small bakeries and in many of the small fruit and candy stores. The inspection began Monday and will continue for several days. None of the large bakeries and confectioneries have been inspected thus far. Dr. Gillie found sanitary conditions bad in bakeries conducted by foreigners and will order a general clean up. Soda fountains in the small confectionery stores disclosed some particularly offensive conditions.

BARNS MUST BE MOVED BACK.

Ten Encroach on Alley Line in Distance of Three Blocks.

Building Inspector Philip H. Wyss is today mailing notices to ten owners of property abutting on the north line of the alley between DeWald street and Creighton avenue and running west from Harrison street to Hoagland avenue, that their stables are built so as to encroach on the alley a distance of from six inches to one and a half feet. The owners are notified that they must move their barns so as to make a full clearance of the alley. Ample time will be given property owners to do this and there is not expected to be any difficulty.

FINISH CONCRETE TODAY.

The Moellering Construction company will complete the work of placing the concrete in Fairfield avenue at the Wabash railroad subway and after it has seasoned until the end of the week the brick will be laid and by Monday or Tuesday the street will be opened.

BIG CROWDS FOR BOYS' DAY EVENT

Hundreds of Youngsters Are Participating in Fun at the Park.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

This is "boys' day" at Robison park and an unusually large representation of Fort Wayne's young America has assembled at the popular amusement resort. Hundreds of boys, of all ages, sizes and types, are capering about the beautiful groves and enjoying the park's playgrounds.

One of the features of the afternoon's program is the annual fancy costume parade. Attired in all sorts of fancy clothes the youngsters will form in line and parade through the park. There is scheduled to be a regular army of "Dr. Pills," "Mutts and Jeffs," "Adolphs and Osgoods" and other famous picture characters. For the best fifteen costumes Mr. Williams, manager of the park, will award prizes.

As usual the "copper trail" will attract practically every boy in the park. Mr. Williams will start at the pavilion with a generous supply of pennies in a large bag. He will walk from the pavilion north to the theater, and then to all places of interest about the park, scattering pennies by the handful as he goes. This is the novel attraction of boys' day.

Mr. Williams said this morning that all arrangements have been completed for the pie-eating contest, the greased pole and the many other athletic and field events. Since early morning boys have been going to the park, some alone and others accompanied by parents or older friends, and the attendance promises to exceed that of last year.

the board of public safety and was reappointed by Mayor Berghoff, serving in all nine years. He was active in the organization of a number of successful building and loan associations and was one of the founders of the Bruderlicher Unterstuetzungs verein, serving as its president and its secretary.

Make Final Arrangements.

At a meeting of the citizens' nonpartisan committee of thirty, to be held this evening, all arrangements will be completed for the citizens' mass convention to be held Friday night at the assembly room of the court house.

A few details for the session have already been completed. Hon. Perry A. Randall, chairman of the committee, will call the meeting to order. Mr. Randall was elected chairman at the meeting Monday night at which time Harry P. Fletcher was elected treasurer and Arthur W. Parry was named as secretary. The committee will decide this evening who will be placed as permanent chairman. It was first planned to appoint Judge John H. Aiken as chairman, but as chairman of the platform committee he will be called upon to present that document, so another must be selected to preside at the convention.

Since having been given an opportunity to read the principles of the citizens' movement as set forth in the preamble and first plank of the non-partisan platform added interest is reported in the forthcoming convention. Men of all political faiths in state and national politics will assemble for the purpose of taking steps, for the first time in the history of Fort Wayne, to separate municipal interests from party affiliation. Democrats, republicans and progressives, as well as members of other party organizations, will meet in an effort to nominate a ticket and adopt a platform that will be in the interest of a better and bigger Fort Wayne. They desire to rid the city of its heretofore unfavorable political manipulations, such as placing political matters ahead of the city's interests.

Work of the Committee.

Friends of the independent movement declare that its opponents are seeking by vituperative methods and unwarranted deductions to detract support from the independent cause by circulating a false rumor that the joint committee of thirty is "running things to suit itself." Discussing the situation one of the independent leaders today said:

"This committee of thirty represents a large number of voters, who met and appointed the committee. The democrats held a big meeting and appointed their committee of ten; the republicans held a surprisingly large meeting, attended by more than 100 voters of republican faith in state and national politics, and appointed their committee of ten, and the progressives did likewise. This committee of thirty and the platform committee selected from it, is doing no more than the straight democratic committee did, and is doing now. The committee represents Fort Wayne's independent voters of every political belief, and is a central committee selected by the voters, just as the democratic city central committee was selected.

"The members are only doing organization work for the campaign that is to follow, and that is what the straight democratic committee is doing, so the non-partisan leaders are asking, by what right is it charged that the committee of independents is "bossing the job" and "running things to suit themselves." Certainly any movement must have an organization back of it, and the citizens' committee of thirty is doing no bossing.

"Those of the doubtful mind need only to wait until Friday night at the mass convention to see who is bossing things, if they care to term it that. It will be shown that the committee has only done preliminary work, and that the voters who assemble at the meeting will be the real bosses. The voters will decide whether or not to adopt the platform as it has been drafted, and they will also vote upon the proposed candidates for nomination on the non-partisan ticket. Fort Wayne voters are rapidly joining the ranks of the non-partisan supporters and the meeting Friday night will be marked by earnest work in behalf of Fort Wayne and its citizens."

FIVE DAYS ARMISTICE.

Bucharest, Rumania, July 30.—A five days armistice was agreed to today at a peace conference between the delegates of Servia, Greece, Montenegro and Bulgaria.

CITY IS CENTER OF PARCEL POST

Manufacturer Says No Other City in U. S. Equals Fort Wayne

AS MAILING POINT

Announcement is made today by officials of the local postoffice that Fort Wayne is the center of population as a distributing point in the government parcel post mail service. It is said that there is no other city in the United States that equals Fort Wayne in this respect, and as a result, large mail order houses and manufacturers of mailable articles are preparing to make an effort to locate their establishments in Fort Wayne.

Among the first concerns to take advantage of Fort Wayne's unequaled location as a center of the population is an iron manufacturing concern now located at Derby, Conn. A representative of this company has been in the city for several days. He has opened permanent offices in the Bass block and informs Assistant Postmaster W. J. Hess that he will move his family here within a short time. He is out of the city today, according to information received at the Anthony hotel, but expects to return soon for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for moving the institution which he represents to Fort Wayne.

He has with him a list of statistics which show that Fort Wayne has the best advantages as a parcel post distributing point in the United States. He says that there is one city in the east whose surrounding population equals that of Fort Wayne, but the people of that territory are of a different class and are not extensive patrons of the mail order houses.

It is said that the company which is to come here is one of the best known iron products mail order houses in the east and does an enormous business throughout the entire United States. A location was first sought at Indianapolis, but Fort Wayne has been definitely selected for the institution.

WOMAN DECLARED INSANE.

A lunacy commission in the court of Justice Nierman has declared Mrs. Edith L. Harris, wife of Arthur Harris, West Superior street, insane. She had become possessed with religious delusions and lately sought to choke her baby, believing that the words of Jesus Christ should be read, "Let little children suffer to come unto me." She believed that in order that her child might get to heaven it must be killed. The commission consisted of Dr. L. P. Drayer, Dr. W. M. Enslen, Dr. J. W. Bowers and Justice A. C. Nierman. The woman will be committed to a private asylum for treatment.

SHOOTS WIFE; KILLS HIMSELF.

Versailles, Ind., July 30. At 11 o'clock yesterday John Ashcraft, of Osgood, Ind., shot his wife, Bertha Ashcraft, three times and then turned the revolver upon himself and after shooting himself twice in the breast fell dead. The woman will recover. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Martha Harlan, in Osgood, and the parties have not been living together for some time. Insane jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the shooting.

CHARGED WITH EXPOSURE.

Peter Walsh was arrested on the north bank of the St. Marys river a short distance west of the Wells street bridge today on complaint of women of the neighborhood that he was guilty of indecency. Walsh had some bedclothing on the bank and had been sleeping there.

REBELLION IN CHINA WEAKENS

Return of Nanking to Peking Government Cripples the Movement

SEE END OF IT SOON

Peking, July 30. The return of Nanking to the side of the Peking government is considered as having taken away the cornerstone from the southern rebellion. The senate today approved the nomination of Hsiung Hsiling, former minister of finance, as premier and it is believed that a permanent cabinet will now be formed.

The chamber of commerce of Nanking telegraphed today to the military governor of the province of Kiang-Su and also to a number of high officials at Shanghai the following dispatch:

"General Huang-Sing, the commander-in-chief of the southern forces, has left Nanking. The proclamation of independence issued there has been cancelled. The city is quiet."

A naval wireless dispatch today confirms the return of the city of Nanking to its allegiance to the northern government.

Northern troops captured the Hu-Kow forts on Friday after a fierce bombardment from a gunboat at Oliphants island. The troops landed below the forts under cover of the bombardment and rushed the position at nightfall. The northern troops will now advance to Nan Chang.

NOTES OF THE COURTS.

No County Farm Yet Purchased.

The county commissioners are today trying to come to terms with owners of land for the purchase of a site for a county farm. The commissioners will buy the Geller and German tracts, north of the city, if terms can be made, but at 3 o'clock this afternoon had come to no agreement with the owners. The options on those tracts expire today. The commissioners are limited by the county council in the amount that can be paid. It is expected an agreement will be reached before the day is over.

Receiver is Appointed.

Bertha Koepf was today appointed by Acting Judge W. C. Ryan, in the superior court, receiver for the restaurant of Henry K. Welton, on Mechanic street. The receivership was asked for by Louis R. Welker, a creditor, who presented claims for $133.89. It is alleged that there are other debts that aggregate $800. Welton is defendant in a divorce suit filed some time ago.

Her Maiden Name Restored.

In the superior court today Acting Judge Ryan granted a divorce to Osie Williams from Corda Williams and restored to the plaintiff her maiden name of Osie Yahne.

John H. Fuelling has commenced suit in the superior court against Martha Jane Shaffer and others to quiet title to real estate.

ARRESTED WRONG MAN.

The man supposed to be Fred Davis, who was arrested in Indianapolis at the instance of the Allen county authorities, was not the man wanted here for giving a worthless check to the Phillips Motor company here in payment for a second hand automobile. The man under arrest established a complete alibi and was released. He only partially resembled the man wanted and Deputy Sheriff Ed Courdeway who went after him came back empty-handed.

MUST GET ESTIMATES IN NOW.

County Auditor Calvin H. Brown is trying to impress on all county and township officers the necessity of getting their itemized estimates for next year filed with him this week. Some of the county and township officers have already complied but others are tardy. The law requires that these estimates be filed with the auditor before the first Monday in August and they must reach the auditor this week.

PAYROLL IS RECOVERED.

Check on Binghamton Fire Victims Found as Safe is Opened.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 30.—At noon today the safe of the Binghamton Clothing company, which passed through the factory fire one week ago, was opened. Its contents, although badly water soaked, were in fairly good condition. The much discussed payroll, which has been relied upon to give the names of the girls employed, was a mass of soaked tissue, but can be dried out and deciphered in a short time.

The safe was opened in the presence of county and city officials.

SCHEDULED TO APPEAR.

Diggs and Committee Up for Formal Arraignment.

San Francisco, July 30.—Maury Diggs former state architect, Andrew Caminetti, son of United States Immigration Commissioner A. Caminetti, both of Sacramento were scheduled to appear before United States Judge Van Vleet today for formal arraignment on charges of having violated the Mann act as the result of their elopment a few months ago with two young women of Sacramento to Reno, Nevada. They already have been arraigned on charges of conspiracy on which they first will be tried.

LIGHTNING HITS WISSMANN BARN

Fire That Followed Causes Loss of Structure and Grain.

COW IS ALSO KILLED

During the terrific electrical storm about midnight Tuesday a bolt of lightning struck the large barn on the farm of William Wissmann, in St. Joseph township, four miles north of the city. The structure caught fire and burned to the ground. A number of horses in the barn were saved. The structure was insured for $500, but this amount will not fully cover the loss, as in addition to the barn a considerable amount of grain is reported burned.

The storm appeared to be especially severe in the northern part of the county, and on the Deromes reserve in St. Joseph township lightning struck and instantly killed a valuable cow belonging to John Kieser, a well known farmer.

How to Get Rid of Eczema

If you bruise your hand, you will notice that a scab forms, and when it falls off, new skin has formed. Did salve do it? No! Skin is the same as muscle, bone, sinew, ligament. All are made from the blood, from the materials that your stomach and intestines convert from food into what we call blood. And this blood circulates in the myriad of tiny blood vessels in the skin. Start from your stomach, where blood materials begin, and it won't be long before you are free of eczema. Use S. S. S. for a short time, and not only will eczema disappear, but the entire blood will be renewed.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy, judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 180 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Beware of any attempt to sell you something "just as good."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

AUBURN WOMAN HAS PASSED FROM SIGHT

Mrs. Anna Brunkhart's Mysterious Disappearance Causes Family and Neighbors Anxiety.

Auburn, Ind., July 30.—Attired in her everyday clothes, a dark blue calico dress, a blue checked apron and a sun bonnet, Mrs. Anna Brunkhart, aged 45 years, mysteriously disappeared from the home of her son, Burl Brunkhart, in East Auburn, Monday evening.

She was last seen by Mrs. Brunkhart between 6 and 6:30 o'clock. At that time she was in the corn field near the house and since that time the family has had no word nor has a clue been discovered as to the whereabouts of the mother.

When she failed to appear at the house at her usual hour the family became alarmed and shortly a searching party, consisting of the son of the missing woman, Linden Brunkhart, and a number of neighbors, searched, with lanterns, fields and roads near the home. Their efforts were fruitless and at midnight the party dispersed for the night. Burl Brunkhart was away from home and did not return until Tuesday.

Mrs. Brunkhart has been in poor health and it is feared that her reason has become impaired, causing her to wander away. Inquiries were made at the local railroad depots in an effort to learn whether a woman answering the description of the missing woman had purchased a railway ticket. No clue was obtained from this source.

The missing woman was of medium height, was rather stout of build, had dark hair and dark eyes. There are three sons, Burl and Linden, both of Auburn, and Melvin, a farmer living near Corunna. This was the first time that Mrs. Brunkhart has disappeared in this manner and considerable anxiety is felt by the family for her safety.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION.

Huntington Schools to Have Manual Training Department.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—With the intention of giving pupils immediate benefit of the requirements of the new Indiana vocational law, the Huntington school board decided to convert the old heating plant building into a special department in manual training, where metal and cement work will be taught.

The heating plant having been abandoned, the partition in the building will be removed, the interior will be painted, and a spacious and neat appearing room will be provided. Both the metal and cement work are new departments in the manual training course, being provided by the vocational law passed by the last legislature. High school students will make metal spoons and other articles and will be given instruction in scientific methods of preparing and using cement. The board looks upon the course as one of the most valuable in the school, from a practical standpoint, and it is the practical standpoint which now is receiving most attention in educational circles.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

Abraham Lhamon, Adams County Native, Aged 80, Succumbs at Berne.

Berne, Ind., July 30.—Abraham Lhamon, aged 80 years, and a native of Adams county, is dead at the home of his son-in-law, Frank Meyers, with whom he stayed, of injuries received in a fall some time ago, when he broke his hip. His wife died last spring. Mr. Lhamon had always lived in this county, was a veteran of the civil war and was held in high esteem.

Deceased leaves three children with their families, Mrs. Frank Meyers, Doy Lhamon, at Decatur, and Heron Lhamon, on Michigan, also one sister and four brothers, Mrs. Maria Yant, in Blue Creek township; William Lhamon, in Berne; Enos Lhamon, at Dickson, Ohio; Date Lhamon, at Gas City, and Thomas Lhamon, in Michigan.

KILLED ON TRACK.

Kendallville, Ind., July 30.—A young man giving his name as Irving Caldwell, age twenty-three, and his home at Nashville, Tenn., died from injuries he received Tuesday morning when he fell from an eastbound freight train just east of the Lake Shore freight house. Loss of blood and the nervous shock of the terrible accident are believed to have caused the young man's death.

According to Regials Somers, a young fellow who said his home was in London, and who was traveling with Caldwell and witnessed the accident, the unfortunate young man had boarded the train at a point where trainmen soon afterward uncoupled the cars to do some switching. As the train was uncoupled Caldwell fell to the ground. His lower limbs were badly bruised and broken in a number of different places and his back was also badly injured.

FALL REVEALS OLD FRACTURE.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weaver fell off a hay ladder a short time ago but it was thought at the time that the lad was not injured and a physician was not consulted. A few weeks later the lad again fell, this time out of a buggy and when a local physician was called it was found that the arm was broken in two places. It was then learned that the bones in the arm had been broken before. Both fractures were set and the lad was recovering according to the last reports.

CHARGES AGAINST WEALTHY FARMERS

Noble County Agriculturists Served With Warrants for Tolerating Canadian Thistles.

Kendallville, Ind., July 30. Warrants charging the permitting, knowingly and unlawfully, of Canada thistles to grow on their farms, were sworn out in Justice E. P. Lash's court Tuesday against Chauncey G. E. Waterhouse, Noble county's most extensive land owner and familiarly known as the "Farm King" of this section of the state, and Edward Wells, also a well known Wayne township land owner.

The two charges, which are misdemeanors by Indiana statute and are punishable by a fine, are made by affidavits. In each instance the state of Indiana is the plaintiff and Deputy Prosecutor Harry Helwig will conduct the prosecutions. Samuel Ackerman, the Wayne township road supervisor, filed the affidavit against Mr. Waterhouse, and G. M. Shaffer, the Wayne township trustee, filed the affidavit against Mr. Wells.

The warrants are being served today and the trials will be set immediately by Justice Lash. The affidavits charge that the two defendants permitted Canada thistles to grow on their farms to a length of six inches or more, knowingly and unlawfully. It is said that they had been warned to cut the thistles and that some were cut which were nearly three feet in length.

The Canada thistle is regarded as one of the most dangerous and destructive of the farm weeds and when ripe the seed is scattered by the wind to adjoining farms. It is a prickly, composite plant of the genera cirsium arvensis and is a native of Europe. From there it was introduced into Canada and thus spread into the United States.

CHILD PIERCED BY HAYFORK.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—It is feared that the young son of John Foster, residing on German street, may have lock jaw as a result of an accident received at the farm of Christian C. Rutenburg, of Dallas township, when Fred, with several of his playmates, was playing in the barn and a pitch fork was dislodged from the haymow, striking Fred in the neck and penetrating to a depth of about three inches. It was necessary for the boy's grandmother to pull the prong of the fork out of the neck and the flow of blood that followed made a hurried call to a physician necessary as it was thought that the jugular vein was severed. A physician arrived and after ascertaining that the vein was all intact injected anti-tetanic fluid into the wound so that if possible a case of lock jaw could be prevented.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARNS.

Elkhart, Ind., July 30. Fire destroyed three barns on the farm of John W. Fieldhouse, three miles southwest of Elkhart, on the Nappanee road. Hundreds of bushels of grain stored in the buildings were also burned, as were many farming implements. The loss is estimated at $4,000, covered in part by insurance. The Fieldhouse family is away from Elkhart at present. One of the buildings was struck by lightning, which accompanied a storm and the flames were carried to the other structures by a high south wind. A shift in the wind is all that saved the residence property on the estate from destruction.

FINALLY LANDED MORRISON.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—After eluding the arms of the law throughout Indiana, including the most nearly perfect organization of sleuths in the state, the city detective bureau of Indianapolis, for more than six months, L. E. Morrison, formerly a resident of the rural districts south of Andrews, has been arrested by Indianapolis detectives on charges of wife and child desertion. Affidavits for Mr. Morrison's arrest were issued during January, but owing to secret hiding places of the pursued man, the arrest was not made until recently. Morrison was discovered by officers in a boarding house in Indianapolis, where he had resided almost all of the period of concealment. Bond was furnished by prominent residents of Summittville, the former home of the Morrisons. Mr. Morrison will appear before the Huntington circuit court during the September term of court unless charges are withdrawn.

BOY "SHOWS OFF;" IS HURT.

Elkhart, Ind., July 30.—While hundreds of pleasure seekers in McNaughton park here looked on Milo Oswalt, aged 14, leaped from the top of the railing on the bridge across the St. Joe river to the water, fifty feet below. The youngster's impromptu thriller had a sequel he had not counted on, for as he neared the water Gus Krafft came along in his motor boat and Oswalt alighted upon the prow. Women shrieked in terror and men turned with sick hearts from the scene, but young Oswalt was not killed. He fractured his arm and received serious cuts and bruises and was for a time unconscious. He will recover. "It's a good thing I didn't dive, as I at first meant to do," was the lad's comment on the affair.

BIG YIELD OF WHEAT.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—William Lauer, of Warren township, has just completed the threshing of his wheat and got an average yield of forty-seven bushels from a tract of seven acres. It is one of the most remarkable yields of the season. The Hard Scrabble Valley threshing ring of Warren township, of which William Lauer is a member, has finished its rounds. There are nine farmers in this ring and they finished their wheat threshing in two and a half days. The total yield was 2,602 bushels threshed. The farmers of this district are considering themselves very lucky in having so large a yield.

BOOST PRICE OF SHAVE.

Bluffton, Ind., July 30. On and after August 4 Bluffton barbers will charge fifteen cents for a shave instead of the usual ten cents. This announcement was made today following the agreement reached after a discussion of several years.

Several times the barbers have notified their patrons that they must have fifteen cents when the neck was shaved along with the face. This resulted in the "feather edge" and soon there was a drop in price. The announcement today says the new price will effect all shaves. The cost of living is still going up for the fellow who cannot wend his own razor and does not want to let his whiskers grow.

WARSAW MINISTER IS DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., July 30.—Rev. Hanson Smith, a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, who made his home in this city, is dead at Santa Fe, Miami county, where he went a week ago to visit a nephew. Sunday evening he filled the pulpit of the Methodist church in that village. Monday he was found dead in his room. His wife has gone to Santa Fe from this place.

HEAT LUNACY IN MARKLE.

Huntington, Ind., July 30.—Harley Derr, a recent Markle benedict, became the object of a number of practical jokers, consisting of many friends of the Markle barber, following Mr. Derr's marriage to Miss Glendolin Preskey, when captured and transported several miles distant from Markle, there to be abandoned and forced to grope his way to Markle along darkened roads. At a late hour Mr. Derr arrived in Markle much to the happiness of friends and relatives. The popularity of the recently married couple in Markle was shown by the actions of the "mob." Mr. and Mrs. Derr will continue their residence in Markle, where Mr. Derr is employed as a barber.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Luke 15:11-32.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father.. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

An Appeal to Citizenship

The formal call for the independent mass meeting to be held at the court house assembly room on Friday evening, at which it is purposed to nominate candidates and adopt a platform in the crusade for the elimination of partisan politics from municipal affairs in Fort Wayne has just been issued. Affixed to the call are the signatures of thirty representative citizens. All of them are well known and of unquestioned high standing in the community. They are equally divided between the democratic, republican and progressive parties in national and state affairs and they yield not an iota of basic party faith in questions wherein party principles are involved. They are today as loyal to their respective political faiths as any party leaders anywhere. In the present instance they are simply manifesting the courage of a conviction that has long been entertained by thoughtful students of municipal economics—that under the system prevailing for many years political parties have saddled upon cities a governmental burden they have no right to bear. They are convinced that Fort Wayne is entitled to the fruits of a system of government based upon a unified effort of all the people for the common cause of good government, without the blight of political obligation to be paid at public expense and at the sacrifice of the efficiency which the taxpayer has a right to expect.

We believe the standing of the men behind the movement will be at once accepted as a guaranty of the good faith which has inspired the awakened effort toward better and more efficient governmental conditions in Fort Wayne that time has abundantly proved to be impossible under the old political system. It is a movement that is easily the most important ever launched in connection with Fort Wayne municipal affairs and it is confidently expected to carry far along the line of reforms in the realm of city government which all men will admit are badly needed. It is in the largest measure an appeal to citizenship to banish party prejudices and pull together for the common good of the city and its people.

President Wilson has made his selection of a new chief for the weather bureau to succeed Willis L. Moore, who was separated from his salary some weeks ago. The sweltering central west fervently trusts that Professor Marvin will lose no time in getting on the job and ascertaining that the safety valve is in proper working order before we get a blow-up.

Uncle Joe Cannon proved himself agile enough to escape injury in an auto accident at Danville yesterday. But, then, Uncle Joe has had considerable practice of late in emerging with a smile from wrecks, political and otherwise.

With a full crew of opposition attorneys and a large collection of highly-incensed statesmen and ex-statesmen lying in wait for him with big sticks on the cross-examination, Colonel Mulhall is perhaps excusable for the suspicion that the worst is yet to come.

With fare boxes in the street cars, the conductors are going to be hard put to find enough to do to keep them too busy to call the streets—but maybe they can do it.

AMBASSADOR ROOSEVELT?

(New Orleans Times-Democrat.)

The suggestion proffered by fifty-four citizens and telegraphed from a Texas town that Colonel Roosevelt be appointed ambassador to Mexico is a little startling at first, but there are a lot of Americans who could probably be reconciled to the idea if President Wilson accepted it. The colonel himself may conceivably be one of them. The proffer of an engagement as leading man in one of the most stirring melodramas of the day might easily tempt him to cancel or postpone his lectures in South America. Indeed, a first-hand study of Latin-American politics would better qualify him for the South American lecture platform later. Privileged to choose between lecturing and meeting the Mexican crisis face to face, there would seem to be no sort of doubt about where the colonel's taste and inclinations would lead him.

We suspect, too, that he would make a first-class ambassador for the task to be accomplished in Mexico. To speak softly, while carrying a stick of sufficient bigness to convince the anti-American element in Mexico that it would be worse than foolish to provoke trouble, might very well serve the present turn. The colonel's diplomacy, one fancies, would be direct and vigorous. But if ever that sort of diplomacy were needed anywhere this would seem to be the time and Mexico the field for its employment.

However, the fifty-four citizens who offer the suggestion have probably wasted their energy and the price of their telegram. Neither the president nor his secretary of state are likely to find the suggestion attractive. First of all, it is reported that the administration has selected it ambassador to Mexico already. And, finally, it is scarcely supposable that Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt would find it easy to agree upon the proper line to be taken with respect to Mexico or, agreeing, would find it possible to do the sort of "team work" that the president properly regards as essential. A successful orchestra cannot have too many "first violins."

PRESS ON CHANGE IN PARCEL POST SYSTEM.

"General Gratification."

Philadelphia Press: "The announcement of a projected change in the parcel post system in the direction of allowing larger packages, lower rates and a simpler system should give general gratification."

"Some Growth."

Boston Globe: "It is estimated that 1,000,000 parcels will pass through the mails during the next year. Some growth, eh, for a transportation infant born so recently as January 1, 1913?"

"Delay in Delivery."

Philadelphia Bulletin: "Merchants and shippers who are the heaviest patrons of the parcel post, are by no means a unit in its praise. Complaints are made as to delay in delivery."

"Every One Interested."

Pittsburg Dispatch: "Every one except the express companies and their friends is directly and immediately interested in any plan that will make the parcel post more generally useful."

"Practical Discretion."

Boston Post: "The department at Washington seems to be advancing with practical discretion in the adaptation of the parcel post system to the requirements of public service."

"Why Rage?"

Cleveland Leader: "Why should senators rage and representatives gnash their teeth at Postmaster General Burleson and his endeavors to extend the usefulness of the parcel post?"

"Much Expected."

Nashville Tennessean: "Of the parcel post much is expected by the public. Every modification which makes for convenience will be appreciated."

PEACE ON THE RAILROADS.

(New York World.)

In withdrawing their demand that their grievances be submitted to arbitration at the same time as the trainmen's, the railway managers sacrificed what was plainly their right in the interest of peace. If they had held out to the last, according to all indications, a calamitous strike would have been precipitated. It is to be hoped, if occasion arises in the future, that the unions will give proof of the same reasonableness as has actuated the railway managers in the final steps of the negotiations.

It is to the credit of the representatives of the trainmen and conductors that in accepting this concession they should have put themselves on record in a letter to Judge Knapp as to the scope of arbitration in these terms: "There has never been a time when we had even the remotest idea that the law governing arbitration was enacted for the benefit only of the employe. On the contrary, we recognize the right of every railway to invoke its provisions at the proper time and in the proper manner."

By the signing of the arbitration agreement public opinion has gained another great victory. It has forced the more violent spirits on both sides to sink their personal inclinations and to join in a treaty of peace that recognizes the rights of the public as paramount. Conciliation has prevailed because it was dictated by common sense.

Decorated Baby Carriage and Go-Cart Parade on Wednesday, August 6th.

There will be six prizes for decorated carriages and decorated go-carts. The finest decorated baby carriage and finest decorated go-cart will each receive twenty six pieces of silver plate guaranteed for twenty-five years actual service. The second and third prizes for decorated carriages and go-carts will be hollow-handled knives and forks. These are selected because young mothers prefer knives and forks. There will be six surprise prizes in the decorated carriage and go-cart parade, so if your decoration is not selected by the judges you still have an opportunity to carry home a beautiful gift as a souvenir of Baby day.

Flat cars will traverse the city along designated routes to pick up the carriages free of charge. The carriages will be returned to the Holman street car barns on the day following the Baby Show where they can be claimed by the owners.—Adv.

BLUFFTON NEWS.

Bluffton, Ind., July 30.—When the case of Mrs. Ida Ramsey was called in the court of 'Squire J. K. Rinehart the attorneys for the defendant asked for a change of venue to the court of Mayor Smith. The change was granted and the case was set for trial Friday. The woman is charged with specific immorality.

After the fourth day of August the barbers of Bluffton will charge 15c for shaves instead of 10c, as has been the custom heretofore. The barbers have been threatening to do this for some time and the high cost of living has forced them to make the increase.

Rev. R. D. Licklider, of Oklahoma City, Okla., will preach here in the First Baptist church next Sunday, both morning and evening, and will be here as an applicant for the vacant pulpit.

E. L. Thompson received word yesterday telling of the death of his sister, Mrs. Alexander Binkley, of Niles, Mich. He left at once for that place, where he will attend the funeral.

Contractor Bjork, of the Bjork Construction company, which is tearing down the old Studebaker bank building, sent his men home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon on account of the extreme heat. One man was overcome by the heat Monday and to avoid a recurrence of the prostration the men were sent home and told to report for work at 4 o'clock this morning. This will enable them to get in a full day's work, but in the cool part of the day.

Howard Stout, a son of Lemuel Stout, underwent an operation for appendicitis. Although his condition was not extreme, it was decided to operate before his health failed and prevented it.

Clyde Millington, the south side young man who was charged with disturbing the peace when he and his father, Sant Millington, engaged in a battle royal Saturday night, appeared in Mayor Smith's court Monday night and his case was postponed.

Anthony St. Marys, an aged Frenchman who has been rooming in the rear of the Merry Widow lunchroom on West Washington street for the past few years, was taken to the county infirmary Monday. The aged man has been living from hand to mouth for the past few weeks hardly eating anything and sleeping in a room with doors and windows barred and excluding all air and sunshine. He was in a very weakened condition and was unable to walk when found.

MANY PEOPLE OBTAINING CURES

CHRONIC DISEASES NOT CURED BY MIRACLES.

Thousands of people in every part of our country are daily regaining health from some disease that only a few years ago would have been pronounced incurable. This is not alone due to the rapid strides being made in medical science, to the great pathological laboratories for original research work, the wonderful methods of cures by serums, anti-toxins and intravenous solutions, but largely to the people themselves. Never before have the people of all classes realized the value of health as they do now. Never have they been so well informed as to the laws of hygiene, the value of exercise and right living. What is still more gratifying to the true physician there has never been a time when his patient was so willing to co operate with him and help him to bring them back to health.

The average individual realizes that this an age of intensity, that any man to compete with present conditions must have his body working perfectly to meet the extra nervous tension required of the full-speed man of today. He must not only be a perfect machine himself, but understand that he cannot be hampered in his efforts by having an unhealthy family. So today we not only find the head of the family keeping his nervous and physical system as nearly perfect as possible, but insisting that his household maintain this same perfection.

Truly this is a great day for the conscientious and earnest physician. He is not now a grim spectre, coincident with death and the grave, but a great, uplifting factor in the health, happiness and success of the whole people, a truly great element in the success of a nation. It will bear repeating, chronic diseases are not cured by miracles or hocus-pocus, but by scientific, understanding, diagnostic ability and sincerity on the part of the physician and the earnest co-operation of the patient.

Perhaps no physician or body of physicians has met with a greater success than have the United Specialists since they opened their institute at 124 East Washington boulevard. While they have kept themselves abreast with every progress in medical science and have had an unusual experience in the treatment of all chronic and deep-seated diseases, they attribute their wonderful success to their earnestness and painstaking effort in the diagnosis of every case that comes to them. While they have every facility in the way of equipment for the examination and diagnosis of disease, yet they always prove their diagnosis by a process of elimination.

Every day patients who have been treated by them are bringing their afflicted friends to these specialists.

Many of their patients have written letters for these columns telling of their great work.

It is exceptionally gratifying that nearly a score of men who have been treated for years heretofore have asked these specialists to refer other men to them.

Any one has only to drop in during their office hours to see for themselves that many of the best women of Fort Wayne and vicinity are patients of theirs.

Of course there is a sadder phase to this work, for many times they cannot hold out hope to the incurable, but they do this, as they are conducting their business from every standpoint of honesty. They are willing to examine the afflicted free of charge. They are making their charges so that any honest person who is in earnest can take treatment. They treat all chronic and nervous diseases, including stomach, intestinal diseases, gall stones, nervous diseases, epilepsy, catarrh, rheumatism and special diseases of men and women. It would certainly pay any afflicted persons to call on these specialists and investigate their work.

Their office hours are from 9 to 12, 1 to 5; evenings, 7 to 8, and Sundays, 9 to 12.—Adv.

"WABASH VALLEY LINES"

$100,000 CHECK GIFT TO BRIDE

IS TOLD NOT TO TELL

Aurora, Ill., July 30.— A wedding present of $100,000 was given Miss Esther Stewart by her grandfather, John Stewart, Aurora's multi-millionaire lumber man, last night when she was married at her home to "Arch" Richards, a former intercollegiate champion sprinter and captain of the University of Wisconsin track team. The amount of the check became public, although Miss Miss Stewart would not talk because she said her grandfather had "told her not to tell."

She is the first grandchild of the lumber magnate to be married. The groom is the son of R. C. Richards, of Geneva, Ill., general claim agent for the Northwestern railroad. Miss Stewart's father, T. B. Stewart, is a member of the state senate and president of the First National bank of Aurora. The Stewart home is a great brick and stone mansion, the finest dwelling in Aurora.

Silver plate wedding presents the couple received are valued in thousands of dollars. Special police were at the Stewart home guarding the presents. The jewels bestowed are stored in a vault of the First National bank.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of about seventy-five immediate relatives and the Rev. Frederick Fleming, rector of the Episcopal church at La Salle, an old friend of the groom, officiated. Following the wedding, a reception was held, to which 700 had been invited.

Miss Stewart became known throughout the country in December, 1910, as the fiancee of Robert E. Davie, the Boston boy broker, who, after a meteoric career, was found guilty of absconding $500,000 and sentenced to prison for five years.

Miss Stewart and Davie met through the pastor of the Old South church, Boston. She was a Wellesley debutante and Davie made repeated visits to the college to attend society functions with her.

At the time of his meeting Miss Stewart he was married and had been separated from his bride of four months, which, Miss Stewart declared, she knew nothing about. Davie was lionized by the social set of Boston. He visited the Stewarts in Aurora before his sentence.

"UNCLE JOE" IS LUCKY.

Former Speaker Cannon Escapes Injury in Auto Accident.

Danville, Ill., July 30.—Former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon's automobile plunged down a steep bank and alighted right side up in a small lake in Spring Hill cemetery last evening.

"Uncle Joe" was out riding with his daughter, Mrs. E. N. Leseure. At a sharp bend in the roadway along the lake bank his chauffeur missed the brake with his foot and the car leaped off the ten-foot bank. The water was shallow, and the passengers easily waded to the shore. Neither Mr. Cannon nor his daughter suffered any injury.

Children Receiving Books at the Fort Wayne Library Branch at the Bowser Playgrounds

An effort to get the children receiving books at the Bowser playground branch of the Fort Wayne library to line up in the way they generally receive them was as successful as such attempts usually are among youngsters. If there were more front rows it would be easy but with only one and every child trying to crowd into that it's a troublesome proposition.

Books are distributed from 3 to 5 o'clock every Tuesday afternoon by one of the assistants in the children's department of the library. They are returned or renewed each succeeding Friday. Cards are issued the same as at the library and Tuesday was the third time the distribution had been made and between forty and fifty volumes were given out.

If the scheme is successful it will be enlarged. It is primarily intended to reach children who live too far from the library to readily obtain advantages offered in the children's department.

HAS WRITTEN BOOK OF POEMS.

Former Fort Wayne Woman, Florence Emily Beaver Nicholson, is Author.

Many Fort Wayne people who will remember Florence Emily Beaver Nicholson a sister of Mont G. Beaver of this city, will learn with more than passing interest of her venture in the field of verse and the publication of a volume of poems entitled "The Crow's Nest and Other Poems." Mrs. Nicholson was born in Fort Wayne and lived here until her marriage to Dr. Watson W. Nicholson, the well known author. They have resided in London, England, for the last seven years but now make their home in Boston, Mass. Mrs. Nicholson is also a sister-in-law of Mrs. E. R. Rhodes, of Fairfield avenue to whom a volume of the verses has come. The San Francisco Chronicle speaks of the book in high praise as a "book that has much good verse which will be appreciated by any lover of genuine poetry." Another press notice says:

The title poem is fine in many ways but it is not so striking as the classical pieces and some of the sonnets. The sonnet to Keats is worth reproducing as it reflects perfectly the feeling of any true lover of the author of "Endymion" and the "Ode to a Grecian Urn." The best thing in the book is the poem "To Demeter," suggested by the seated goddess in the British Museum.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

ORIGINAL ALL-STAR CAST.

"Fine Feathers" to Be Treat for Fort Wayne Theatergoers.

The seat sale for the notable engagement of Eugene Walter's great play, "Fine Feathers," with its original all-star cast, began this morning at the Majestic, where it is to appear Saturday matinee and night.

In view of the fact that this is the first time an original cast of any sort has been offered here, many playgoers are likely to doubt the authenticity of the announcement, as is evident from inquiries at the box office. But local theater patrons are assured that they will see the identical all-star cast which appeared in "Fine Feathers" for a half year at the Cort theater, in Chicago, and for the balance of the season at the Astor theater, New York. The Broadway run came to a close a few weeks ago, and the entire original star cast and production have been taken on a tour of several western cities; and this is one of only a few cities that are to see this notable cast, composed of Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers. The engagement is indeed the treat of the year.

AT THE EMPRESS

There is a real novelty in the way of amateur talent to be placed on view next Friday night at the Empress theater. "Bedelia" is her accepted stage name, and right to claim the title of the "Greatest Amateur in the World" will not be questioned by anyone after they have seen her performance. "Bedelia" possesses a deep basso sort of voice and the hearer is inclined to question whether there isn't a female impersonation stunt being put over. Then following the vocal efforts comes the dance, the best thing of the sort ever witnessed. "Bedelia" is being rehearsed each afternoon under the able direction of Howard Barbour, the Empress musical director, and while she finds it difficult to stick to the written music, she having been accustomed to having warbled her own compositions, she is learning.

The regular current bill is a good one, with plenty of song and dance for hot weather entertainment. The dozens of fans, blowing cool air into the auditorium keep the big play house many degrees cooler than the outside.

AT THE JEFFERSON

The offering at the Jefferson consists of a Victor dramatic entitled "Marooned," and a Poors comedy, "While the Children Slept," both of them excellent. Thursday and Friday comes "Spectre of the Sea," a most remarkable picture, wonderful effects, beautiful scenery and one of the most interesting love tales ever presented in motion pictures. With this special will be shown another feature, "The Stranger," a red blood story with a punch, making a double feature show. Friday night six amateur acts. Starting next Monday the marvelous Vivaphone singing and talking pictures will be the attraction and will be given in addition to the regular show. The Vivaphone is now in successful operation in over four hundred theaters throughout Great Britain and Ireland. This is the first time that this wonderful machine has been exhibited in this country outside New York city and the exclusive rights for this city belong to the Jefferson.

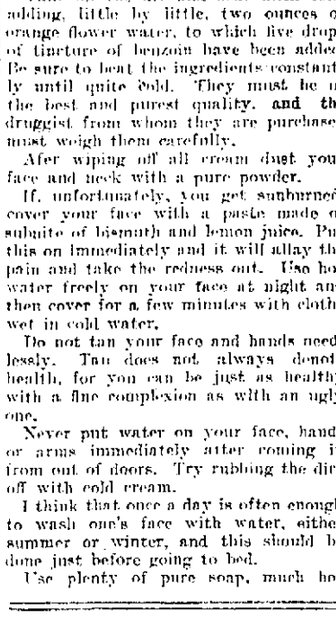
How to Take Care of Your Skin in Summer



(By Mme. Millefleurs.)

Be out doors as much as possible during the long summer days. Exercise enough to get often into profuse perspiration. But do not needlessly burn or tan your hands and face. If you are going for a motor ride or a game of golf rub your face over with cold cream made after the following recipe and then powder plentifully.

This skin food and cream is used by nearly all reputable beauty specialists, and time and use has shown it is much the best ointment for preserving and softening the skin that is known: White wax, one-half ounce; spermaceti, one-half ounce; lanolin, one ounce; sweet almond oil, two ounces; cocoanut oil, one ounce.

Take off the fire and beat until cold, adding, little by little, two ounces of orange flower water, to which five drops of tincture of benzoin have been added. Be sure to beat the ingredients constantly until quite cold. They must be of the best and purest quality, and the druggist from whom they are purchased must weigh them carefully.

After wiping off all cream dust your face and neck with a pure powder.

If, unfortunately, you get sunburned, cover your face with a paste made of subnite of bismuth and lemon juice. Put this on immediately and it will allay the pain and take the redness out. Use hot water freely on your face at night and then cover for a few minutes with cloths wet in cold water.

Do not tan your face and hands needlessly. Tan does not always denote health, for you can be just as healthy with a fine complexion as with an ugly one.

Never put water on your face, hands or arms immediately after coming in from out of doors. Try rubbing the dirt off with cold cream.

I think that once a day is often enough to wash one's face with water, either summer or winter, and this should be done just before going to bed.

Use plenty of pure soap, much hot water and scrub your skin well. The remainder of the time you can do as the little son of a friend of mine did. He had been sent to the bathroom for a bath and came out with a very dirty face.

"Why, Bobby," said his mother, "didn't I tell you to take a bath?"

"Yes'm."

"But your face is very dirty."

"Well, I don't always wash my face when I take a bath," said Bobby.

LIGHTWEIGHT COATS.

No more useful garment than the coat of lightweight worsted has been included in woman's wardrobe in years. These coats fill almost every requirement of a summer wrap. They are gracefully appropriate for wear with the draped afternoon costume of crepe de chine, lansdowne or foulard, are jauntily attractive over a short skirted outing costume; and they will answer for short motor trips and for travel by rail or by water. The rather severely cut models of dark or neutral colored material are the most satisfactory—and usually the smartest. Sometimes a bright colored Bulgarian collar adds a touch of gayety, and very exclusive coats of this sort have linings of American beauty or emerald green silk. Mandarin yellow is another favorite lining hue. Very good looking sport coats of pin striped black or navy serge, with trim lines and trimming of white pearl buttons, may be found.

COMBS OF FLOWERS.

The comb arrangement of flowers on a summer hat is the newest fad in trimming. The posies are in a crest from the back to the front of the hat, just as the cock's comb springs proudly from his head. When the flowers are carefully shaded the effect is charming.

Another arrangement shows the flowers outlining the brim of the hat. The smaller blossoms, such as forget-me-nots, rose buds and pansies, are selected for this style of trimming, and when the same idea is reproduced on the edges of the parasol the wearer of all these flowers looks like an animated garden.

NELLIE CONNOR.

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 30.—"Greater love than this no man hath—that he giveth his life for his friend!"

By that final test Nellie Connor, the heroine of the great Binghamton factory fire, where scores of girls perished in the flames, proved, beyond all doubt, her long, long affection for "her girls."

For thirty years Nellie Connor acted as forewoman of the great Binghamton Clothing Co., balancing the "rights" of 100 needle workers with the best interests of the firm.

As time is measured, she lived fifty-odd years, but Nellie Connor never grew old. A tiny little woman, hardly larger than a well-grown child of twelve, she unconsciously set fine standards for ten generations of operators.

"Her girls" honored her power to control, rejoiced in her merry kindness, "loved" the unvarying daintiness of her working gown and the way in which she dressed her beautiful blonde hair.

As the years grew more lonely Nellie Connor gave more and more of her leisure to church work and to reading books of the big, bright world she should never see. But always her deepest interest lay with "her girls," their lives, their problems, their hopes.

"I cannot think what I should do without them—how I shall ever leave them," she would say, smiling.

Without warning the summons came on clanging gongs. From their posts of vantage by the open doors the forewoman and her deputies saw that this alarm meant fire!

"Girls, go out quietly," called Nellie Connor, standing alert and immovable at the second story stairhead to guide and guard the file.

"Miss Connor, come! * * * Nellie, dear, come!" cried her deputy as the last of the terrified workers in the lower room fled to safety.

The cherry answer pierced a wind-like roar.

"Nonsense," called the little forewoman. "I am going upstairs. I must see that every one is safe!"

A momentary sight of a brave, small figure climbing the stair, a glimpse through the smoke-fog of the bright head passing a wind-swept doorway and Nellie Connor disappeared into the upper workroom where a hundred women still fought with death!

For her there was never a chance. When the workers in her charge were doomed, she, too, calmly refused life!

"I cannot think what I should do without girls—how I should ever leave them," Nellie Connor had said, and, actually facing death, Nellie Connor still said it!

Ten of the rescued, dying in Binghamton City hospital, weep not for themselves, but for their "forelady."

"Nothing you can say of her will be praise enough," whispered to me the lips that must soon be silent.

JUDGE GRILLS A LOWBROW BRUTE

Language Gives Out Before He Can Tell Hoch the Things He Is.

SWISHER GOT HIS, TOO

Only because the limitations of language hedged him about with a thousand inadequacies did Judge Mungovan today fail to make clear to Nick Hoch the different kinds of an undesirable citizen he is. He did, however, succeed in making Hoch understand that twenty-five and costs mean thirty-five days in jail unless Nick can throw out the life line to somebody who is willing to part with the price of liberty.

Hoch is divorced from his wife, who resides at 2526 Warsaw street with her three minor children. His brutalities forced the woman to get a divorce, but he goes and comes as he pleases and swears and abuses his family and curses his former wife just as though he still were the head of the household. He has been home repeatedly this week on mischievous missions and last night his wife had him arrested after he had indicated some willingness to perform some operations on the family with an ax.

Hoch is a primitive-looking human being—the abyssmal brute, the cave man, the reversion to type that you read a lot of in Jack London and similar stories and that he has not committed a murder is no fault of his appearance.

"Do you know what I'd do if I could?" Judge Mungovan started in on Hoch, after his former wife had finished her testimony that was much broken by sobs. "Well, you'd get it, you coward. That's what you are—a great, hulking, pitiful coward. You pitch on this little woman, but you'd run from a man." And then Judge Mungovan exhausted English expression in describing Hoch and denouncing his cruelties.

"I'm going to take care of you for awhile, anyway," said the judge. "You get $25 and costs and you go to jail. If you are brought in again you'll get the limit."

"I'm full of business and I can't lay around. I'll pay," said Hoch.

"Where will you get the money?" asked the court.

"She get it—she got money in the bank. She get it for me," said Hoch, indicating his ex-wife.

"No, she won't. If you are depending on her to get you out of jail I'll make the fine $100 and send you over for six months besides," said Judge Mungovan.

Hoch was taken over and Mrs. Hoch promised the court she would not pay his fine.

Swisher Hits the Bumps Finally.

Amani Swisher, who spends his money when he has any and runs in debt on his mother-in-law's grocery account when he hasn't money in order to buy provender for camping parties, was in once more charged with neglecting his children.

"Swisher, I'm tired of your coming here. You are simply no good. You get what's coming to you this time and I want to say that the penitentiary is staring you in the face. You are bound over to the circuit court and your bond is $500."

Swisher pleaded hard for another chance, but Judge Mungovan was obdurate and Swisher went to jail, where he will await trial unless he gets bond, which is not probable. His offense is of long standing and flagrant.

BIG STORE FOR THE WHITE BLOCK

Fruit House Building to Be Remodeled for a New Tenant.

FIRM IS A BIG ONE

Work will begin tomorrow for remodeling the White Fruit House building, corner Calhoun and Wayne streets and when the alterations are completed Marcus J. Fedderman, of New York, will install one of the largest department stores in Fort Wayne in that building.

The property belongs to the Straus Brothers company and they have planned extensive changes in the big building. Contractor Fred Rump will do the work and he will have his men at work tomorrow. A permit was taken out in the building department today that shows the alterations are to cost about $23,000.

The north front of the corner building will be reconstructed of glass and the entire frontage on both streets will be made uniform. The interior will be reconstructed and steel I-beams and steel columns will be worked into the frame and entire new floors will be put in and steel ceilings placed. The remodeling will be done in such wise as to make possible the addition of several stories which the owners contemplate at no distant day.

Marcus J. Fedderman is one of the big "chain store" merchants and it is his intention to make Fort Wayne one of his important enterprises.

CAST DECIDING BALLOTS.

Women Voters Turn Tide of Illinois Elections.

Chicago, July 30.—Women cast the deciding ballots in two elections in Illinois yesterday. At Champaign 270 women voted for the first time and carried a proposition to issue bonds for the purchase of motor fire apparatus. At Dixon women cast one-fourth of the ballots and as most of them were in favor of extending the waterworks franchise twenty years they are considered responsible for the adoption of that proposition by a small majority.

ENTIRE STATE IS SWELTERING

RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30.—From Lake Michigan to the Ohio river Indiana sweltered in the hottest day of the year, with many prostrations over the state. Relief from the extremely hot weather, however, is said to be in sight and that it will be cooler before tomorrow night. In Indianapolis the government thermometer went up by leaps and bounds, passing all records for the year. It started at 74 degrees at 7 o'clock and jumped to 89 at 9 o'clock and at noon stood at 99 degrees, while the Kiosk showed 106 degrees at the same time. The hottest previous day here this year was June 30, when the temperature was caught at 96.9 degrees. The hottest day on record in Indianapolis was July 22, 1901, when the official temperature was 106 degrees. Three prostrations had been reported up to noon today. None was considered serious.

Climbs at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., July 30.—There was no sign of relief from the heat wave that has engulfed Evansville at noon today and the thermometer is steadily climbing higher. At noon the government thermometer showed 95 degrees while the kiosk showed the street temperature to be 103. One heat prostration was reported.

In Other States.

Chicago, July 30.—A lake breeze this morning brought relief from Chicago's hottest spell of the year. At 7 a. m. the thermometer registered 75 degrees. At 10 o'clock it was 81 and slowly rising.

Topeka, Kan., July 30.—Kansas got a worse roasting today than yesterday, with no prospect of relief. Last night the temperatures generally were above 90 until after midnight and never fell near seventy even in the morning hours.

BALLOT LIKE CIRCUS BILL.

New York Voters to Struggle With Slip Eighteen Feet Long.

New York, July 30.—The fourteen foot ballot which came in for so much ridicule during the election primaries last fall has been outdone by one eighteen feet long which will be used in the democratic primaries in the 23rd assembly district here this fall. There is no press in New York big enough to take the ballots at a single impression. They will have to be printed in six foot sections and pasted together like circus bills.

CITY IS ENJOINED FROM DESTROYING

Owners of Condemned Buildings Get Restraining Order.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

The first legal contest encountered by the city government in its campaign against old or dilapidated buildings was started today when the People's Realty and Investment company applied for and obtained an injunction against the city of Fort Wayne and Building Inspector Philip H. Wyss to restrain them from destroying or in any way molesting the condemned structure at 237 West Superior street. It is set forth in the complaint that the building is a two-story brick and frame structure used as a dwelling and that it is in good condition and repair and is firmer and stronger than when erected and that it is in no way dangerous or insecure. It is represented to have value of $3,000. The People's Realty company has had title to the property during the past three years. The building was condemned June 30 last and the owners given thirty days in which to demolish it. To prevent any molestation of the property the company sought an injunction and Breen & Morris, its attorneys, filed the petition today. Judge Eggeman issued a temporary injunction restraining the city from molesting the property until September 2, when the merits of the case will be heard and determined.

B. H. Schele is president and K. V. B. McDonald is secretary of the People's Realty and Investment company and they bring suit for the corporation.

Motorcyclist Sued for $2,000.

John Sullivan has filed suit in the superior court against Clarence T. Brase claiming damages in the sum of $2,000 for personal injuries. The plaintiff says that on June 15 last he alighted from a returning Robison park car at the intersection of Spy Run and Prospect avenues and that as he did so the defendant riding his motorcycle at a speed of twenty to thirty miles an hour attempted in violation of the law to pass the car and ran into him. He says he sustained painful injuries and permanent disablements and was put to much trouble and expense by reason of the accident.

Will of Mrs. Bayless Filed.

The will of the late Anna L. Bayless, of this city, has been filed for probate. In the instrument she left minute instructions as to her funeral and burial and directed that if after payment of her debts and funeral expenses enough money remained there should be purchased a burial lot in "some beautiful part of Lindenwood cemetery" upon which a handsome mausoleum should be built, containing three shelves—one for herself, one for her husband and one for her brother. The will disposes in detail of numerous keepsakes and relics to relatives and other friends. Her property was left absolutely to her husband, John Bayless, who was named as executor, but a codicil names Charles A. Wilding as executor and makes provision for division of the income from the property between her husband and brother.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Mrs. Flora J. Hoffelfinger has instituted suit to reopen a divorce case under which her husband, John Hoffelfinger, obtained a divorce. She sets forth that when her husband was granted a divorce she was in the west. H. H. Hilgeman is the plaintiff's attorney.

This is the last day of grace for the payment of dog tax without penalty and Trustee Henry Branning, of Wayne township will resort to court action for collections from delinquents.

Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and Chief Deputy Henry Branning will hold a meeting at school house No. 4 in Monroe township tonight to complete the organization of that branch of the Allen County Protective association. Friday evening a meeting will be held for that purpose in the Center school house in Madison township, and next week efforts will be made to organize Jackson and Jefferson townships.

Dr. Henry Nachtel, founder of the New York night medical service, has just received from the French minister of war the military medal of the Franco-German war of 1870, in which he served as assistant surgeon major attached to the northern army.

AFTER REMARKABLE OPERATION

Eminent X-Ray Expert is Recoverin, at Johns Hopkins.

Baltimore, July 30.—Wearing the skin of his own abdomen upon his right hand, Dr. Frederick H. Baetjer, of this city, one of the best known X-ray experts of the country is recovering from a remarkable operation at Johns Hopkins hospital.

To save his hand, the four fingers of which were amputated a year ago, following an infection caused by X-rays, a piece of skin the shape of the maimed hand was turned back from the abdomen, the injured hand bound tightly to the wound and the skin laid over it.

Then after a while, the work of severing the ends of the skin attached to the body was begun. It is nearly finished now, and it is believed today that Dr. Beatjer's hand will be sound and whole, save for the missing fingers.

LAST BOAT GETS AWAY.

Stefanssen's Gasoline Boat Sails From Port Clarence Bay.

Nome, Alaska, July 30.—The gasoline boat Alaska, the last of Vilhjamar Stefanssen's Canadian Arctic exploration ships, sailed from Port Clarence Bay last night, according to word received from Teller. The Alaska, which is in command of R. M. Anderson, Stefanssen's chief lieutenant and who will have charge of the southern party which will explore Victorialand, was delayed by engine trouble.

BATTING IN THE SAME OLD ORDER

Grand Rapids Has Not Made a Change Since the Opening.

BEAT HAPLESS VETS

Just to show what kind of luck Grand Rapids has played in since the opening of the season it is only necessary to look at the batting order which is practically the same as it has been since the season opened.

Most managers in both the major and minor leagues find it necessary now and then to shift their men in the list, and this is generally done in an effort to break a losing streak, but Grand Rapids has had nothing like this to contend with.

When Toddy Kroy was sold to Terre Haute Lejuene slipped into the batting berth vacated by the change and has occupied it since, and John Core is still in the clean-up position, and as long as the club is holding its own the members will continue just as they started.

Tomorrow the leaders will be in Fort Wayne, and the Billikens are in better shape to meet them than they have been at any time this season. The addition of Ainsworth to the pitching staff has strengthened it and the men have three days of rest between engagements now and ought to make a better showing.

When the leaders were here before they were beaten four times in a row, and this was the worst backset they had had all year. Manager Ed Smith was really and truly sore about it. He said when he left here that he would get good and even next time and he meant just what he said. There has been one change in the team since it left Fort Wayne. Come to think it over carefully, there have been two. Clemons was returned to Louisville and Smith, the left-handed terror with Springfield last season, has taken his place.

Manager Bill Essick wrote a letter to himself reinstating himself and he is now a member of his own pitching staff. Then interest is added by the ever present question, will Smith try to win a game here? He has never been able to do this and the last time the margin was too close for him to take a chance. Now that his club has a good lead there is a possibility that he may try it just to see if he can chase that old hoodoo.

Since the club left here Ed Pfeffer has been sold and will get his second trial in the majors, having gone from Fort Wayne to St. Louis after his first season in the Central league. He will pitch one of the games.

Yesterday the leaders stepped upon poor down-trodden Dayton and administered the tenth straight defeat the club has sustained. Sherrard Smith pitched this game and he will be seen in one here.

Read Ainsworth will make his bow as a local pitcher during the series of three games. The club will be at home nine days, and Terre Haute and Springfield will follow Grand Rapids.

Parker and Cantwell divided the pitching at Terre Haute in the second Evansville game, and the Evas picked off a victory by a score of 6 to 4. Three of the runs made by Terre Haute were forced over the rubber by the pitchers, two registering because Fittery could not get control and the other when the game was turned over to Jakie Fromholz with the bases full. The scores:

Grand Rapids...	0	0	1	0	0	3	0	1	0	5	13	0

PITCHER PROVES A GENERAL RULE

All of Them Get a Good Beating After Joining New Club

SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Springfield, O., July 30.—Most every time a pitcher joins a new club he gets a good beating within a few days of switching his allegiance and the consolation that most of them draw from it is that they usually start on their regular stride right afterward and show their real form.

If this rule holds good Earl Ainsworth is about ready to open on a long series of victories as that good licking coming to him was delivered at Springfield yesterday in the twosepiece matinee that was halved by the Reapers and Billikens. Sixteen hits for a total of twenty-one bases was served up for him in the curtain raiser.

Grover Young was hit ten times in the second half of the bill but managed to come through with a victory owing in a great measure to some plain and fancy batting kicked in by his pards.

Wetzel was paired with Young in the opener and three hits equally distributed among Fabrique, Burke and Welsh were all he allowed and not a Billiken reached counting territory. Ainsworth was strong until the fifth when hits were clustered and produced three tallies and three more were added in the eighth and ninth.

In the second game Springfield opened strong on Young and counted three runs in the first round and another was added in the fourth but in the fifth the team fell upon Rube Merchant and picked off five runs and this was enough to win but a couple were added for good measure. The scores:

THIS IS ROQUE, WHICH IS AN ADVANCED KIND OF CROQUET.

THE IDEAL ROQUE-IST AT PLAY.

Ever play roque?

Have you ever seen roque (pronounce it roke) played?

Roque is no joque: it is a habit. In every city you may find a small body of roques who have the roque fever.

Roque is big league croquet. In the '70s, when baseball had gone to the dogs, croquet threatened to become our national sport, but nobody woque up to it west of Philadelphia.

The demand for a national sport was imperative. There was a natural aversion to cricket, so croquet had the call until baseball pulled itself up by its own boot straps and saved the country.

Croquet today is played by summer boarders. Roque is a game of moques who first learned to play croquet—which explains why the number of players is limited. Roque is almost as exciting as chess or tatting, but it is guaranteed not to cause apoplexy.

Roque requisites are a past of at least a half century; the beard of a patriarch helps and insures quiet. No one wants to start the fireworks when someone's grandfather is making a carom shot.

Personal equipment consists of a sun helmet, a short handled, long headed mallet, a ball and a sanguine disposition to hold the illusion that one is having a deuce of a time.

Roque is played on level ground from which the sod has been peeled. Wickets are the same as those used in croquet, only narrower. The object is to soque your ball through the wickets and keep the other fellow from doing likewise.

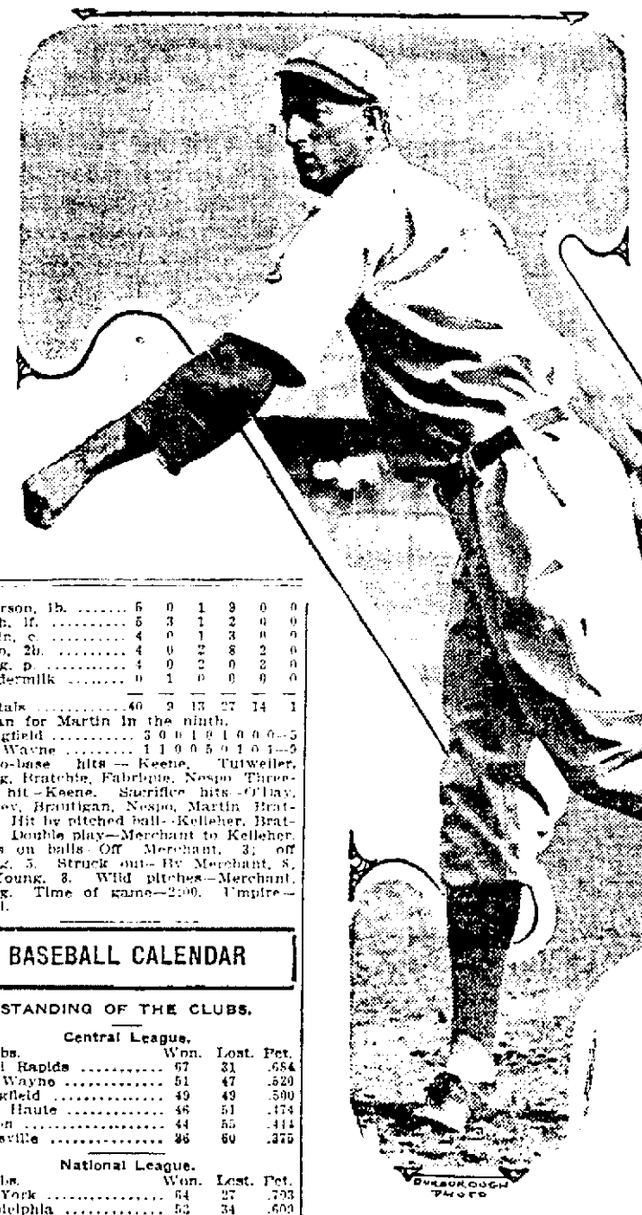
The game has its Ty Cobbs and Hans Wagners. Also its "Deadwood Dicks," judging from some of the fancy poques which every grandfather makes when forced to do so.

After a particularly good play, like a home run or a base on balls, the fortunate one emits a cackle of content while the opposition player croques dismally.

This is the rooting limit, which is another reason why the game never became our national pastime. The American temperament requires an explosion point.

To the uninitiated, roque as a popular pastime is a fine little afternoon siesta.

SALEE WOULD BE AS GOOD AS WADDELL WITH A WINNING COMBINATION BEHIND HIM.



"SLIM" SALLEE.

Every once in a while "Slim" Sallee, the St. Louis National league club pitcher, performs sensationally and sets tongues wagging.

His latest notable work was the blanking of the Giants, to whom he allowed but three hits. Sallee threatens to become a great left-hander almost every year, but with the hopeless Cardinals behind him never gets farther than the threatening period.

Properly handled, with a fast fielding, hard hitting team to support him, Sallee would be one of the greatest pitchers that ever played the game. Under Roger Bresnahan he did great work and has shown flashes of it for Miller Huggins, but it really would require a Connie Mack or a McGraw, with the sort of teams they have, to make Sallee a great star.

TAKING BIG CHANCES.

It is too great a risk to depend upon neighbors or sending for medicine in case of a sudden attack of bowel complaint. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from cholera morbus that could have easily been saved had the proper medicine been at hand. Then think of the suffering that must be endured until medicine can be obtained. The safe way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has never been known to fail and has undoubtedly saved the lives of many people. But it now. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

BENTON IS HURT IN A COLLISION

Eccentric Pitcher May Have Been Fatally Injured by Car.

RIDING MOTORCYCLE

Cincinnati, July 30.—"Rube" Benton, star pitcher of the Cincinnati National league baseball club, was probably fatally injured in a motorcycle accident in Walnut Hills, a suburb of this city, early this morning. Benton's motorcycle collided with a Madison road car. At the Cincinnati hospital he is said to have sustained a fractured jaw, concussion of the brain, multiple bruises and internal injuries. It is thought he will die.

Benton had not regained consciousness up to late today. He was on his way home when the accident occurred. Some witnesses said he was going at high speed at the time, that he lost control of the motorcycle and ran into the car. Others said the car ran into Benton and that the motorman was at fault. The collision was head-on and Benton was hurled to the street with terrific force.

JACKSON SPANKS COLLEGE PLAYER

One of the Incidents of Career of the Great Slugger.

WAS A BUTCHER BOY

Joe Jackson, the hard hitting outfielder of the Cleveland Naps, who led the American league in batting for the twenty games he played in his inaugural season of 1910, and was second only to Ty Cobb in 1911 and 1912, and is now leading his mates, was shunted toward a professional career as a player by a burst of southern temper when 17 years old.

As a member of the Greenville, S. C., Grangers, who won thirty straight games in one season, Jackson was playing against a college nine in his home town, when, in sliding to second base he was spiked in the muscles of the leg above the knee by a gentlemanly collegian.

Joe thought the act was premeditated on the part of the higher education fellow. So he proceeded to take off his own shoe and apply the spiked footwear to sundry and divers portions of his opponent's person.

Joe had never studied anatomy, but his father was a butcher, and he had worked in the shop. By the time he had finished his revenge job, his rival bore some semblance to a hamburger steak.

This little pleasantry, however, resulted in Joe being put under bonds to keep the peace, and brought unfriendly criticism from friends of the collegian. Therefore Joe decided to leave Greenville temporarily at least, for the career of a baseball player.

The experience gained on independent nines in 1905 and 1906 paved the way for his entrance into the big leagues, although he returned to the meat shop the latter part of 1906 and during 1907.

This return was prompted in no sense by lack of interest in baseball, to which he was devoted, but because the prospect for a regular pay day were less nerve racking.

That was less than six years ago, and Jackson stands today one of the greatest players in the history of the game. But to take up the tale chronologically, Jackson was born at Brandon Hill, S. C., July 16, 1887, although gussing most of his life at Greenville, of the same state.

There his father attempted to bring up a family of nine children, seven boys and two girls, from the profits of a butcher shop. Two of the younger brothers are touted by Joe as likely to uphold the family name on the diamond.

With a family of this size, the elder Jackson thought Joe or more use in the shop than at school. So, instead of learning the national pastime back of the "old school house" Joe picked up the rudiments in the street in front of the store when there was a lull in the sale of liver and sausages. History does not record whether customers objected to his sudden transfers from the dust of the road to the ice box and return.

Jackson's first serious thought of professional baseball followed the earning of $7.50 for pitching a game on July 4, and the row with the college player previously referred to cinched the decision. So in 1905 and part of 1906 Joe was an independent player on semi-pro nines in the vicinity of Greenville.

After a season of strict adherence to the butchering business during 1907 Joe was quite ready to listen to the plea of Manager Thomas Stauch, of Greenville, then in the South Carolina league, to sign a contract for the season of 1908. Jackson led the league in batting with a mark of .346.

Connie Mack, of the Athletics, not only has long legs but long ears when it comes to hearing of promising young player, and Joe joined the Athletics that fall. He was given a trial in the outfield.

A long fly lost in the sun and played poorly struck him in the chest and he was removed from the game. The gibes of the bleachers and homesickness caused him to desert the club. The story always was spread that he was afraid of the high buildings.

When Connie Mack located the player who had "run out" on him he farmed him to Savannah, and in 1910 released him outright to New Orleans. When with Savannah, in the South Atlantic league in 1909, Jackson topped all the sluggers with .358. With the New Orleans club in 1910 he led the league with .354.

Thus for three consecutive seasons he led three different minor leagues in batting. Then he stepped into the majors and played twenty games with Cleveland in the fall of 1910, batting .387.

This was two points more than Cobb and Larry Lajoie, who were concerned in the batting rivalry which caused the scandal at St. Louis and the dismissal of Manager Jack O'Connor, who recently secured a verdict against the St. Louis club for being "fixed."

Predictions were freely made that the youngster was "hitting over his head." But with the introduction of the lively ball in 1911 he proved that he had been hitting under his head by clouting .408 against .420 of Ty Cobb. Last year he kept up the merry clip with .395 to Cobb's .410.

Jackson's speed makes him a dangerous man on the bases, although his keen eye and the strength with which he propels his big bludgeon earn him more fame than his reputation as a finished base stealer.

HIS INDIGESTION CURED AT LAST.

After spending hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment for indigestion and constipation with only temporary relief, C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark., was permanently cured by Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

OLD HORSESHOER ANSWERS CALL.

Johnstown, N. J., July 30.—Once widely known as the chief horseshoer of the famous racing stable of Pierre Lorillard at his estate near here, John J. Farrell died yesterday, having been stricken at the forge in the shop he has conducted since Mr. Lorillard's death. The latter, it is said, would permit no other man to shoe his horses, and he took Farrell on numerous globe trotting expeditions merely to look after his horses.

Mr. Krudop, who occupied the machine, escaped injury.

MILLER CAN HIT IN THE PINCHES

Philadelphia Says He is Better Than The Giant Hitter.

RECORDS PROVE IT

Philadelphia, July 30. New York's claim that Harry McCormick is the greatest pinch hitter in the country is disputed by Philadelphia. The Quaker City has a candidate for the world's championship at pinch hitting in the person of "Doc" Miller.

Figures give the title to Miller, who has made good so many times this season that he has worked his way into the hearts of the Phillies' rooters and made them forget that "Doc" has some shortcomings as an outfielder.

A curious thing about these men is that neither shines except at the bat. McCormick is a joke in the field. He is just as apt to muff or fumble a ball as to catch or stop it. Miller is more accurate in his fielding, but he covers very little territory. Each man is so slow on the bases that he seldom gets an opportunity to run further than first base. As soon as he completes his job as a pinch hitter, McCormick, like Miller, has a runner take his place.

But when it comes to pinch hitting each man has earned fame time and time again by cracking out a base hit at the proper moment. Miller's work this season has been so brilliant that he has outshone McCormick, whose work the past two seasons driving out hits when substituted at bat for some other player earned him a national reputation. McCormick is probably more successful against the Phillies than any other club when it comes to pinch hitting. About the only method that the Daisies could devise to prevent McCormick from driving in runs in the pinches would be to give him a base on balls. Miller, on the other hand, has been successful against practically all the clubs.

The records of the men to date follow:

	G.	AB.	H.	TB.	Pct.
Miller	43	60	20	25	.333
McCormick	35	44	11	14	.256

Miller has certainly wrested the crown from McCormick. "Doc's" greatest feat in this line was when he recently appeared at bat here in each game of a double-header and on each occasion he made a two-bagger.

G. O. P. PUTS OUT PARTY PLATFORM

Straight Ticket Republican Candidates Pledge Themselves.

MEET WITH CHAIRMAN

At a meeting of candidates, precinct committeemen and members of the platform committee of the republican party Tuesday night, held at headquarters in the Pixley Long building, a platform for the municipal campaign was submitted and adopted and the candidates in turn pledged themselves to support the party principles and all the candidates. The address of the occasion was delivered by William H. LaTourette, the republican candidate for mayor.

The Platform.

The platform contains nineteen planks and is as follows:

"We, the committee appointed by the republican city chairman to draft a platform for the republican candidates to stand on in the municipal campaign this year, beg leave to report the following for adoption:

"First—It is appropriate at this time that we should recall with a sense of veneration and gratitude the name of the first republican president and leader, Abraham Lincoln, whose lofty principles and superb devotion to country inspires us to renew our allegiance to the republican party and to pledge our unfaltering support to the whole city ticket nominated at the city primaries June 27.

"Second—The republican party takes great pleasure in presenting to the voters of Fort Wayne the name of the Honorable William H. LaTourette as its candidate for mayor, the man who fought and knocked out the two-hundred-thousand-dollar bond issue a few months ago.

"Third—We declare our abiding faith in his ability, honesty, sincerity, sobriety, intelligence and high moral character, that, if elected, he will make the city a splendid executive officer. We can vouch for his standing sacredly pledged to give us a city government of the people, by the people and for the people.

"Fourth—We most heartily approve of the loyal and patriotic fealty to party as evidenced by the republican city organization in the opening of headquarters in the Pixley-Long block at an unusually early date. The headquarters are open now and will be kept open.

"Fifth—That, after defeat of the party last November, the organization, not disheartened and without fear, voted to put up a straight republican ticket in the city election this year. This manifestation of manly courage, coupled with their steadfast devotion to republican principles, entitles each individual member of the city organization to an expression of gratitude and to the most favorable commendation by this committee.

"Seventh—We publicly declare that there is no honest intent on the part of the 'ring-leaders' on the 'independent' movement in their contention for a non-partisan ticket, and that they want to take city elections out of politics. It is only a 'trick' they are trying to turn to get in and stay in office. We have no hesitancy in saying that the whole thing is misleading, a snare and a fraud to detract the voters from the real issue in this campaign—namely, the right of the people to rule.

"Eighth—The republican party pledges its candidate for mayor to the enforcement of the laws of the state and the city ordinances, the extermination of the 'blind tigers,' the wine rooms, gambling houses and all forms of vice that now exist, and which are a menace and a curse to our city.

"Ninth—We further pledge him to surround himself with honest, capable, efficient and industrious men in all departments of the city government—men who will render him every assistance in his endeavor to meet the expectations of all the people.

"Tenth—We will never consent and will resist to the last any attempt to sell or dispose of our electric lighting plant or our waterworks system to any private corporation.

"Eleventh—We favor the enlargement of our crematory for the disposal of garbage and that our street repair plant be enlarged to a capacity of not only repairing but to be used in the paving of new streets in the future.

"Twelfth—We stand for a still further reduction in the price of gas for domestic purposes and a rate not to exceed 75 cents for one thousand cubic feet after the expiration of the present contract.

"Thirteenth—We favor the continuance of track elevation, and will take up the work where the present administration leaves off, and push it to completion as speedily as possible.

"Fourteenth—We will extend the water mains to all settled residence parts of the city in preference to all unsettled parts thereof.

"Fifteenth—We are strongly in favor of the extension of our municipal lighting system to the most remote residence parts of the city and to the lighting of the streets that are now sorely neglected.

"Sixteenth—We favor the improvement of streets and laying of sidewalks in all parts of the city, especially when our citizens have long been taxpayers, in preference to new, unoccupied additions.

"Seventeenth—We demand that the sewers built in the future be large enough, and of sufficient capacity to carry off the sewage for generations to come.

"Eighteenth—We recommend the building of sanitary drinking fountains and public bathing places throughout the city. We are most heartily in favor of public playgrounds for our children. We believe in a reasonable number of public parks, but are much opposed to our citizens becoming 'park mad.'

"Nineteenth—We believe in permanent improvements along the lines of necessity, protection and prevention rather than beautification. If found feasible by the engineers now employed by the city, we recommend the completion of the work as to dredging the rivers, or eliminating the flood conditions of the city by use of the Trier ditch. We also insist that the work be commenced at once, and we pledge ourselves to a speedy completion of the same.

"Twentieth—We are unalterably opposed to the increase of the city indebtedness (except in case of pestilence or a dire distress) but favor instead a reduction of its present indebtedness by payment of its bonds as they become due.

"Twenty first—We recommend that the bonds that fall due on October 10, this year, be paid as far as the city's sinking fund will permit, and the unpaid balance be renewed only for a very short time, so that with proper management the city should be out of debt by 1920, as the last bond becomes due in that year. There will then be no need of a sinking fund and with a tax of five cents on the $100 now levied for that purpose, eliminated, will reduce the tax levy quite materially.

"Twenty-second—Whereas, the Allen county commissioners have refused to permit patriotic bodies the use of a room in the court house as has been done in adjoining counties, we recommend that steps be taken to induce the county commissioners to furnish a suitable room or rooms for the use of the grand army posts and kindred organizations in Fort Wayne.

"Twenty-third—Whereas, our candidate for mayor, Mr. LaTourrette, leader of the fight against the $200,000 bond issue and the first to declare against the iniquitous park law, therefore be it

"Resolved, By the republican party of Fort Wayne, that we demand its repeal and we further demand that the people be reinstated and allowed the rights of franchise on all matters pertaining to bond issue and,

"Resolved, That the slogan of the republican party of Fort Wayne this campaign be: 'Let the people rule'; and be it further

"Resolved, That the eagle be the symbol or device of the republican party in this campaign and that the election commissioners be instructed to place the same on the republican ballot in the city election of 1913.

"Respectfully submitted,
"HENRY C. GRANNEMAN,
"Chairman.
"PHILIP B. WERSTEIN,
WILLIAM BURKE,
"CRAWFORD GRISWOLD,
"HORACE C. GRANGER,
"JAMES H. EAKEN,

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Indictment Against Militia Officer Whose Shot Proved Fatal.

Indianapolis, July 30.—An indictment charging Sergeant Edwin Ball with murder in the first degree was returned by the grand jury here yesterday. Ball a week ago shot and seriously wounded Walter Dowell, a private in the national guard whom he had arrested on a charge of smuggling liquor into the annual encampment of the state soldiers at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Dowell died at a local hospital Monday. The indictment charges that Ball "maliciously and with premeditation" fired the shot that caused the private's death. The sergeant is held without bond for trial. The grand jury report, in effect, finds that Ball exceeded his authority in shooting Dowell.

NO PASSES TO EXPOSITION CITY

Employes Who See the Panama-Pacific Show Will Pay Railway Fare.

G. R. & I. TRAIN HITS HANDCAR

Section Men Scramble Out of Danger—Trucks of Tender Derailed.

The railroad employe who anticipates a free ride to San Francisco in 1915, when the Panama-Pacific Exposition is in progress will probably be disappointed. The railroads operating to the Pacific coast have started a movement not to honor any free transportation and a formal order covering this point may be looked for soon. The reason will be given by the roads is that a heavy influx of travel to the Pacific coast will have to be handled and that every effort will be made to give passengers paying fares the best of service. This means that railroad employes who plan to visit the exposition will have to pay their fares to the Golden City just like other people.

DEMOLISHED A HAND CAR.

Southbound passenger train No. 2 on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road encountered a hand car at a station known as Beal's Road, a short distance out from Grand Rapids, at 7 o'clock this morning. The section men who had charge of the car escaped by jumping and running to the side. The hand car was demolished and the front trucks of the tender of engine 68, which was pulling the train, were derailed, but the locomotive was not crippled and was able to bring the train down to this city. It was late when it pulled into Fort Wayne. Passengers noted the sudden stop and some of them got out of the cars to see what was the trouble. They were not excited.

HIKER COMING TOMORROW.

Engineer C. M. Somers, of the Pennsylvania, met Herbert W. Hoover, the 10,000 mile hiker, at Chicago Monday. Hoover left New York city October 14 on a 10,000 mile walk on a wager that he could complete it in a year, and he is now on the last laps of the homeward trip and is thirty-two days ahead of his schedule. He told Engineer Somers that he would reach Fort Wayne Thursday morning. Hoover belongs to the Grey Crest Athletic club, of Newark, N. J.

He is well known in this part of the country.

RECOVERING FROM SICKNESS.

James M. Dale, the veteran telegraph operator, expects to resume work in the Nickel Plate yard office next Friday. He has been sick for several months and for the past three weeks has been unable to work. He is now on the road to recovery and hopes are entertained that it will be permanent. Mr. Dale has been with the Nickel Plate ever since it opened to business.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, is in the city today on business for the company. He looked over the improvements at Fairfield avenue and at Broadway, where the work of installing the concrete bridge will be taken up some time next week. C. E. Wells, Wabash trainmaster, is also here today.

AT SPRINGFIELD ON BUSINESS.

General Foreman Henry Eisele, of the Wabash shops, is looking after some private business matters in Springfield this week. He lived in that city prior to coming here as general foreman, six years ago. During Mr. Eisele's absence William J. Welch is acting as general foreman of the local shops.

SANTE FE GETS ANOTHER LINE.

Next Friday the Sante Fe will assume control of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific railroad, but there is some doubt of the permanency of the transaction. The road is said to have been a burden to its owners and has been on the market for some time. The Sante Fe bought it to prevent it from falling into undesirable hands.

LAMPS TO BE BUILT HERE.

Two section gangs on the Lake Erie and Western at Bluffton, who has been on a strike for some time, resumed work Monday at the old wages, $1.55 per day.

General Yardmaster C. D. Rose, of the Lake Shore, is taking a vacation and left yesterday for Manchester, Mich., where his parents reside and where he formerly lived.

B. F. Haswell, foreman of one of the departments of the General Electric Lamp works, has resigned to engage in electrical business on his own hook in Milwaukee, Wis.

Raymond Hoffman, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, testing department, is at Lima, Ohio, on some business for the company that will occupy his time two or three days.

Nickel Plate train No. 1, from the east, pulled into Fort Wayne over an hour behind schedule time this afternoon. The delay was due to some trouble on the eastern division.

Machinist J. H. H. Servoy, of the Pennsylvania shops, and his family, have gone to their old home, Winchester, Ind., to spend two weeks with relatives.

BRIDE SAYS SHE'S HYPNOTIZED.

15-Year-Old Wife Wants Divorce So Another Can Wed Her.

Independence, Kan., July 30.—Mrs. Harvey Dean, 15-year-old bride, whose second disappearance after she had been found at Neodosha, Kan., led the police to believe she was again with H. M. McCord, her alleged abductor, was taken to Iola yesterday by a deputy sheriff. She said she would obtain a divorce and then become McCord's wife.

"It seems as if McCord has hypnotized me," the bride said in a telephone conversation with her husband. Then a reporter picked up the receiver.

"Do you think you would be safe with McCord as you would be with Mr. Dean?" asked the reporter.

"I can't explain it," said the bride. "McCord has me in his power; I am at his mercy. I would lie for him; I would die for him. I would do anything he told me to do. I am wholly under his influence. I cannot see anything but love for McCord."

WRECK IN RAILROAD YARDS.

Two Engineers Hurt and Traffic Tied Up at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 30.—Two locomotive engineers were injured and traffic on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad was delayed for a short time today by a collision of the Norfolk-New York express train with a shifting engine in the Frankford yards on the outskirts of this city. The injured men, who are expected to recover, are Robert F. Jones of Jersey City, and Benjamin F. Slack, of Philadelphia. The express train was not derailed and no passengers were hurt. The shifting engine was backing into the yards when the collision occurred. The express train was annulled and the passengers transferred to a New York local train.

All city cars were operated from transfer corner one hour later than usual time last night owing to a broken wire on the Robison park line. Visitors at the park were unable to reach the city until about 1 o'clock this morning.

Officials of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company declare that work on the South Broadway tracks will be completed not later than September 1. Work on the west track from the Wabash to the end of the line was completed Tuesday.

POLITICAL BEES A-BUZZIN' ROUND

Indiana Congressmen Said to Be Fixing Up Their Fences.

HEATED TERM GOSSIP

Washington, July 30.—Members of the Indiana congressional delegation are putting in their spare time these days nursing political ambitions. Senator Shively sees opposition to his nomination for the senate fading away and is much cheered by the prospect. Thomas Taggart and the senator are now on the very best of terms, from which it is forecasted that Taggart not only will forgive any senatorial ambition he may have in the interest of Shively, but that he will give the senior senator his actual and helpful support for renomination.

Even Stotsenburg of New Albany has written to Senator Shively that he (Stotsenburg) will not be a senatorial candidate and that he thinks Shively should be renominated and re-elected. So the coast seems clear as far as getting his party's endorsement is concerned.

Representatives Candidates.

All of the Indiana members of the house are aspirants for re-election to that body. Representative Cline has had senatorial ambitions and has been prudently getting the decks clear in case he should conclude to enter that fight, but the apparent "cinch" which Senator Shively has on the nomination probably will result in Mr. Cline confining his activities to getting a renomination in the Twelfth district.

Representative J. A. M. Adair will be a candidate in due season for the democratic nomination for governor, but as that contest does not come until 1916, he will devote his attention at present to getting a renomination for the house. There is just one little complication in Mr. Adair's case. Dale Crittenberger of Anderson is an aspirant for the nomination for auditor of state next year, with a good show of landing. If he should be nominated and elected to that fat office it might militate against the choice of another Eighth district man for governor in 1916.

Cullop is Out.

Representative W. A. Cullop is now an out-and-out candidate for renomination to succeed himself in the Second district. An effort was on foot for a time to get a judicial appointment for him, but that has not panned out. There have been rumors that he would have opposition, but his advisers report that his fences are in better shape than for some time past and that he will be renominated without difficulty.

Representative Barnhart has been acting peculiarly toward the nomination for governor. He does not treat the subject with the seriousness manifested by Mr. Adair. When accused of harboring gubernatorial ambitions he usually parries by telling a story of more or less questionable vintage and no one can induce him to admit that he will be a candidate.

Nevertheless, there is a very strong impression in the delegation that if the call should be extended to him, as it was to that other farmer, Cincinnatus, he would come a-jumping to meet it.

WOULD SAVE VIKING SHIP.

Norwegians at Chicago in Effort to Preserve World's Fair Relic.

Chicago, July 30.—Norwegians of Chicago are aroused because officials of the Field museum have permitted the Viking ship, a relic of the world's fair, to go to ruin, and yesterday they started a movement to restore the vessel as was done with the Spanish Caravals and place it in the lagoon of one of the parks.

Museum officials explained that the nature of the institution has changed from a general to a natural history museum and that the boat now is out of place. Oscar H. Haughan, consul for Norway, is assisting in the plan to have the ship rebuilt.

MOHR IS HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Found Hiding Under Bed in Room He Broke Into and Near Valuables.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

A man giving the name of Frank Mohr and his home as Philadelphia, was bound over to the grand jury from the city court today on a charge of burglary. Mohr was found shortly after midnight under a bed in the rooms above Tom Kelly's saloon, 1315 Calhoun street. He was arrested by Officers Madden and Brown, who had been called to investigate the case. Mohr and a Fort Wayne man named Joe Walsh had been drinking together all the evening at saloons in the neighborhood and were warned by the officers to get off the street. He gained entrance by using a large picture easel, taken from a lower room, and using it as a ladder to enable him to crawl through the transom. He had taken nothing, but in another room adjoining the one where he was found were $75 in cash and a couple of hundred dollars worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Crawford, the housekeeper. This is what Mohr is believed to have been after. He had shoes off when found. In court he pleaded that he was so drunk he did not know how he got in the room and knew nothing of what he had done. After Mohr's arrest Walsh was picked up and sent in. He went over for fifteen days on charge of drunkenness.

Colored Society Affairs Aired.

The case against Fred Jones, a colored man, for neglecting his children brought a large number of negroes from Eureka street negro quarters into court and aired a scandalous state of affairs in the Jones family. Mrs. Jones, the complaining witness, was made to admit by her husband's counsel, H. I. Smith, that she had borne two children since her separation from her husband, three or four years ago and one Tom Durham figured much in the testimony. Mrs. Jones declared she was not asking Jones for support of her illegitimate children and flatly refused to answer a lot of compromising questions put to her. The Jones children are in the care of Mrs. Jones' aged mother and are evidently having a hard time of it, though it was shown Jones is doing something for their support. The case was continued for thirty days.

Costs to Keep Foul Tongue Going.

Tom O'Rourke paraded the streets at the transfer corner about midnight when belated pleasure seekers from Robison park were crowded about and filled the air with profanity and obscenity and was arrested. Judge Mungovan gave him twenty days to get his foul tongue into more tractible and less offensive habits.

Sixty Dollars For a Bite

"George" (Saloon) Ade, a Syrian, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was fined $30 and costs, a total of $60, which he paid. Ade had a fight with a fellow countryman named Moora and chewed his left ear off. "Feel like having another meal of raw meat?" asked Judge Mungovan and Ade grinned. Moora has a suit for $2,000 damages for the injury now pending against Ade in the higher courts.

Just Couldn't Stay Away.

Tom Smith was released from the city court yesterday morning on a drunk charge and he celebrated it by getting a fresh jag that made the displaced affair look like a Bryan banquet. He was staggering and making himself offensive on Main street and attempted to jerk a watch from a man's pocket. Officer Magers sent him in and today Judge Mungovan put fifteen days on him.

Other Cases Disposed Of.

Frank Smith, William Roby, George Cowest and Frank Baird, drunks, were allowed to go.

The case against Vasil Dimitri, for violating the ordinances relative to the keeping of chickens, was continued a day. The defendant's counsel was not in court owing to a misunderstanding.

NOTES OF THE POLICE.

Perry Schultz, a driver for the National Supply company on East Columbia street, reports that he lost a ten gallon can of oil from a consignment of goods he was taking to the Pennsylvania freight house yesterday afternoon and did not discover the loss until he invoiced his load at the freight house. He learned that the can fell off at the corner of Columbia and Clinton streets, but when he returned there it could not be found.

Jesse Ross, a switchman in the Nickel Plate yards, is embarrassed by the fact that a man found drunk on the court house steps Monday either bears or has assumed a similar name. Mr. Ross, the switchman, is not the man arrested.

FINGER PRINTS IDENTICAL.

A letter to Chief of Police Abbott from S. R. Y. Blakely, commander in the bureau of navigation of the navy department at Washington, states that Roy Bates' finger prints, forwarded from the local police department to the navy department, are identical with finger prints of Bates in the navy department. Bates is the man who disposed of bad checks here ant numerous other places upon the representation that he was in the navy. Commander Blakekley's letter states that Bates enlisted in February, 1903, and was dishonorably discharged from the Portsmouth naval prison after serving a sentence for desertion. The finger prints taken here are also identical with those of Joseph Sidney Fuller, who enlisted in the marine corps in January, 1910, and with those of Roy Sidney Bates, who applied for enlistment in January of this year, but eloped en route. Neither the navy nor marine corps want Bates.

SLEPT IN HALL; ROBBED.

George A. Scott reports to the police that owing to the crowded condition of the Interurban hotel, on West Columbia street, he was given a cot in the hall last night. When he awoke this morning his clothes were gone. He found them outside and his pockets had been rifled. The thief took $9 cash, a check for $13.73 on the Porter Construction company and a silver watch and gold chain. The police are looking for a clue.

AUTO THUGS AT WORK IN MUNCIE

Detective for Dry Forces is Beaten Up by Men Who Escape.

SON IS THREATENED

Muncie, Ind., July 30.—The expected happened yesterday in the clash between the "blind tiger" forces and the "drys," when three ruffians attacked and brutally assaulted Louis Wein, sr., of Indianapolis, one of the Anti-Saloon League detectives, who caused the arrest of eleven men in this city a few days ago on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

Wein had just left his hotel and was within half a square of the court house, in the heart of the city, when he was attacked by the three men. He was knocked to the street and a deep gash was cut in his scalp. His nose also was broken and he received other injuries about the body as the result of being kicked.

The assailants ran to a near-by waiting automobile and were hurried out of the city. The car was driven by Joseph Bauman, owner of a local garage, who was placed under arrest on his return to the city on an assault and battery charge.

The assault was well planned and was similar to the depredations of the Chicago auto bandits. According to Bauman's story to the police, three men, whom he says he never saw before to his knowledge, came to his garage and rented a machine and a driver for three hours. He says he was told to be at a point near the court house at about 1 o'clock, the time Wein would leave his hotel on his way to the court room where the blind tiger cases are on trial.

One man remained in the car and held open the doors, ready for the assailants to enter as soon as their job was completed. Although Bauman declares he does not know the name of the town where he drove the men, the police are informed that they went to Fairmount.

The city was thrown into great excitement, as it was first reported that Wein had been killed. While in the court room Monday afternoon Wein says a stranger tapped him upon the shoulder and said: "We'll get you before you get out of town." The only reply Wein made was a laugh.

It is said that Louis Wein, jr., who assisted in the investigation, has been warned to leave the city.

STORY AGAIN CONFIRMED.

School of Large Whales Disporting Off Long Island Shore.

New York, July 30.—The story of a school of large whales disporting off the Long Island shore receives further confirmation by Captain John Phillips, of the fishing steamer Cape Cod, who reports that last evening he witnessed the unusual spectacle of six sixty-foot whales in a mighty battle with an equal number of ten-foot sharks, about ten miles off Longbeach. The steamer plowed full speed into the midst of the struggle during which Captain Phillips sent four bullets into one of the sharks, which, in its fury, struck a second shark such a powerful blow with its tail the monster was hurled from the sea against the steamer's side.

IN TEARFUL PLEA FOR THE "OLD MAN"

Senator Lewis, of Indianapolis, Wants a "Father's Day" Established.

SAYS HE DESERVES IT

Washington, July 30.—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis has come to the conclusion that the "old man" of the family has not received proper recognition from a grateful country, although the nation has honored the other members of the household. As a result, he announced today his intention to introduce a bill setting aside July 20 as "Fathers' Day." Already there is a Mothers' Day and a "Children's Day."

"Why shouldn't we do something for the 'old man'?" demanded the senator with virtuous indignation. "He pays the bills and cold winter mornings is forced to get up to light the fires. In summer they make him do the work of a horse in moving the lawn beneath blazing sun. His lot altogether is not exactly a happy one. His deserves recognition."

Senator Lewis intends to introduce a bill at this session, but will not press it for consideration until the regular session beginning in December. If prompt action is not taken on it then he threatens to make a speech.

To Curb Political Activity

Immediate re-organization of third and fourth class postoffices in Illinois because of alleged pernicious political activity by postmasters was proposed to President Wilson to-day by a delegation of Illinois congressmen, accompanied by State Senator Kent E. Keller, of Murphysboro.

Senator Keller, who acted as spokesman, alleged many instances of irregularities in the examination of employes under civil service regulations and asked the postoffice to at least immediately replace half the postoffice inspectors in the state by democratic appointees.

Senator Lewis also conferred with the president about Illinois patronage and especially about the postal service.

Washington, July 30.—Preparations virtually have been completed for the enlargement of the house office building to accommodate with offices new members in the enlarged house. Sixty-three new rooms will be added, fifty-one of which will be built on the top of the present structure and the remainder will be fashioned on the other floors through a rearrangement of the present offices. The work will cost close to a quarter of a million dollars, which was provided for in the deficiency appropriation bill of last March.

BELIEVES WOMAN MURDERED.

Roomer Arrested on Story Told by Her Neighbors.

Evansville, Ind., July 30.—Mrs. Lizzie Hairell, aged 75, was found dead in her home yesterday with a large gash over her forehead. Coroner William Stemper believes the woman was murdered. She was known to have considerable money in the house. Philip Axton, a civil war veteran, who roomed at Mrs. Hairell's home, has been taken into custody. Neighbors say Axton had refused to let them call and see Mrs. Hairell during the last several days.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, July 30.—Corn soared today above yesterday's topmost figures. Trading was so excited that sales made at the same moment in different sections of the pit were as much as 1c apart. Drought and heat with not much promise of relief gave the basis for the upward movement of the market.

The close was steady at 85⅞@86c for September, a loss of ⅝@⅞c net.

According to high authority there is no reserve moisture in fully a third of the corn belt and the plant is in a critical condition. Much damage has already resulted and more will follow without good rains. September started at 65¼c to 65⅝c, later reacting to 65⅜c.

The close was nervous with September ⅛@⅜c net higher at 65⅝@65½c.

Other grain swayed with corn. September wheat, which opened at 85¾@86¼c, fell to 85. Business in oats was on a large scale with opening more evenly divided than in corn. September started at 41⅛c to 41⅜c and sagged to 41¼c.

Provisions eased off with hogs. First sales with September were: Pork, $21.25 to $21.30; lard, $11.77½; ribs, $11.80.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 30.—Steel was the feature at the opening of today's stock market, a block of 4,000 shares changing hands at 59¾ and 59¾, compared with yesterday's closing price of 58¾. Bethlehem Steel rose 1½ and there were minor gains in Lehigh Valley, Reading and Amalgamated Copper, while Erie first preferred rose a point. Canadian Pacific was the weakest of the standard stocks, with a point loss, and Illinois Central and Union Pacific also sold below yesterday's close.

The very irregular tone of today's early stock market, which later became decidedly heavy, resulted from several highly conflicting developments. These included the excellent quarterly report of the steel corporation which was largely neutralized by further news of blistering heat in the corn belt and a reduction in the Illinois Central dividend from 7 to 5 per cent. Illinois Central fell over seven points to the lowest prices since 1899. Bonds were firm.

The market closed heavy. Such changes as occurred in the final hour were in the direction of the betterment, but trading was then at low ebb and reflected little more than a settlement of the day's contracts.

REFUSE TO ABANDON BRIDGE.

Cass County Commissioners Deny Logansport Petition for Delay.

Logansport, Ind., July 30.—Basing their request on the ultimatum issued here Saturday by Maj. Oakes of the engineering corps of the United States War department, the committee of citizens that has opposed the construction of concrete bridges across the Wabash river at Third street and Burlington avenue according to plans made by Engineer Luten of the National Construction company, today petitioned the Cass county commissioners to forego building the bridge at Third street until an expert and disinterested engineer can be engaged to advise the board on how to construct a flood proof bridge at this point. The commissioners replied that since the plan under which construction is being made is the best one of those filed and since no better plan has been offered, the work will be pushed to completion at once, despite the threat of the government engineer that, under federal control, the bridge would be declared a menace and removed from the river.

M'LEAN CHARGES BROKEN PLEDGES

he quoted as assuring the mill workers that the democratic tariff would look after the differences in cost of production here and abroad. "The protection democrats have tried to compromise with the 'free trade' democrats and this, of course, is impossible." Senator McLean continued. "You cannot compromise with the arithmetic or the compass. You are either there or you are not there. If twenty per cent. does not protect, then ten per cent. will not protect. My complaint is that the democratic party has broken its sacred promise to the people of Connecticut. This I have shown from the lips of those democrats who alone had authority to do the promising. If adequate protection is found in any rate contained in this bill it is thereby accident only.

"This bill has been described as a glaring example of invisible and inaudible government. It is not the way in which the conclusions of the committee have been reached; it is the effort of these conclusions that the people of Connecticut are afraid of. This bill may be an example of invisible and as the senator from Iowa so aptly added the other day, inaudible government, but it is a sample of minority government in complete betrayal of the promises of that minority to the people of Connecticut that I object to."

Seeking to Create Panic?

Shaking a clinched fist at republican senators, Senator Stone today charged during the tariff debate that every republican speech he had heard had been delivered with the deliberate attempt to create a panic.

The Missouri senator spoke in reply to Senator McLean. He declared it appeared to him that the republicans through their speeches were sending messages to the country with a design of creating fear and distrust. Senator Clark, of Wyoming, challenged Mr. Stone's statement and asserted that if any distrust were being engendered, it was through statements by President Wilson, Secretary Redfield and Secretary McAdoo. Senator Stone replied with a charge of a conspiracy among republican senators to create public distrust.

"Name the senators," demanded Senator Clark.

"Every republican I have heard speak," responded Senator Stone. He finally named the Wyoming senator himself.

"I have not delivered a speech," retorted Senator Clark.

Senator Stone read mercantile agency reports, showing good business conditions. Senator Penrose declared that not a textile industry in Pennsylvania east of the Susquehanna river is running three days a week.

PUT BAN ON SCHOOL CLOCK.

Logansport Trustees Refuse to Install it on New Building.

Logansport, Ind., July 30.—A petition signed by 300 citizens asking that the old clock, which was fixed in the tower of the central school building, be installed onthe new high school building in process of erection here was rejected by the Logansport school trustees last evening on the ground that since the roof of the new building is to be flat, it offers no place to put the clock. "Besides," said Attorney D. C. Arthur, secretary of the board, "the time is rapidly coming when it will be unlawful to ring a bell or blow a whistle or maintain a loud striking clock in public in the state of Indiana."

SPY RUN SALOON ROBED.

Burglars Take Several Dollars Cash and a Fine Roasted Ham.

Burglars entered the saloon of William Miller, 2213 Spy Run avenue, early today and carried off $5 or $6 in small change, the larger part of which was in pennies, and raided a cold storage locker of a fine roasted ham that weighed something more than twenty pounds. Entrance was gained through the bowling alley, a window of which was open, and then by jimmying a window in the hallway and breaking a glass in a door of the saloon. Detective Sergeant Rappert who is working on the case, says it is evidently a hobo job.

CRUCIAL TEST IN MINE STRIKE DUE

by a sentry at Isle Royale mine last night. They sought to determine the truth of the sentry's statement that he had been assaulted with stones before he fired at and wounded his tormentor.

Reports of disturbances at the outlying troop stations reached bridage headquarters today in considerable numbers. A fullisade of shots was fired by guards strung along the railway tracks in the Calumet and Hekla shop yards but the sentries aimed high and so far as could be learned no one was hit.

The men reported that groups of strike sympathizers had been throwing stones and bricks at the guardsmen. One of the missles grazed a sentry's head and he fired in the air. A shower of stones and bricks followed and the soldiers discharged their rifles over the heads of the disturbers. The score or more of shots aroused the camp.

Two arrests were made at Isle Royale of men who were charged with threatening the troops.

GEN. GRANT'S SON TAKES YOUNG BRIDE AND GOES ON WORLD TOUR.

U. S. GRANT, JR., AND HIS BRIDE, FORMERLY MRS. AMERICA ELMS-WILL.

San Francisco, July 30.—When bells were in mourning for wife and husband, respectively, two years ago, Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., son of the former president, and Mrs. America Elms-Will, of this city, met on a westbound Pullman and fell in love. They were married a few days ago in San Diego and are now on a tour of the world.

Grant is 61 and his bride 32.

As Miss America Workman, Mrs. Grant was one of the most beautiful belles in Southern California, accomplished and gifted with extraordinary musical talents. She was married to Clifford Will, a wealthy druggist of Marshalltown, Iowa, in 1910. Thirteen months afterward Will died.

Grant is a lawyer, having engaged in practice in San Diego since 1893. When a young man he was secretary to his distinguished father in the white house. He has been a prominent figure in national politics, having served as a delegate to the republican national conventions of 1896 and 1900, and having been a presidential elector at large in 1904 and 1908.

"Naturally I have made proper provision for my wife, there being so much difference between our ages that it is humanely probable that I shall leave put in control of the property. The settlement does not give the bulk of my private fortune to my wife, but provides suitable protection for her in case of my death and sufficient for her son to enter the army should an appointment to West Point be obtained. My children will share in the estate to the extent to which they have given their approval."

CHICAGO WOMEN AFTER THE JOBS

Many Write Mayor Harrison for Appointment as Bluecoats.

PULLING THE WIRES

Chicago, July 30.—Mayor Harrison will have no trouble in finding ten policewomen when he is ready to make temporary appointments, which he is expected to do this week. There are scores of women in Chicago who are natural born policewomen and are ready to tackle the job, according to the letters they have written to the mayor.

Although the women of the city have been given the ballot and have talked considerable since that time about efficiency in public affairs, the applications for policewomen show that some at least have more faith in the old political "pull."

Pull Political Wires.

Women whose fathers fought for the democratic party during the civil war and who have kept the faith since have put forward claims for recognition. Not only that, but they have had well known politicians indorse their petitions. Never did a policeman who wanted to work in citizen's clothes exert more political influence than some of the applicants for the job of policewomen.

A few women have gone directly to the rooms of the civil service commission and filed applications there, but a greater number have applied directly to the mayor.

Mayor to Appoint Ten.

"Maybe you think the job isn't popular," said the mayor yesterday. "You ought to see some of the letters I have received. One applicant states she is an all around athlete and absolutely fearless. I expect to make some sixty-day appointments until the civil service commission can prepare examination papers."

The ordinance creating the ten police women was passed by the council Monday night. When appointed the women will be assigned to dance halls, bathing beaches, small parks and work of that kind.

NOTICE TO ALL STREET CAR PATRONS.

On Friday, August 1, 1913, the PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER CARS of the NEAR-SIDE type operating on South Wayne and Broadway, Pontiac and Lakeside lines will have fare boxes installed of improved design.

The purpose of the box is to facilitate the registration and collection of fares, so that the conductor may devote more time to the SAFETY and CONVENIENCE of the street car patrons.

Each passenger when entering these cars, or any other pay-as-you-enter cars, will have their OWN fares ready. The fare boxes have receptacles for tickets as also coins. Passengers in all cases will deposit their own fare (coin or ticket) in said receptacle. Any one desiring change for amounts up to $2 may obtain same from conductor and then deposit their fare.

The co-operation of the public is desired.

JURYWOMEN FIND A WOMAN GUILTY

First Trial of Its Kind in Illinois Results in Conviction.

SETTLED IT QUICKLY

East St. Louis, Ill., July 30.—Illinois' first woman jury was impaneled in a justice's court here yesterday afternoon and tried Mrs. Blanche Thompson on a charge of disturbing several of her neighbors. Contrary to the prophesies of spectators, a conviction was returned and Mrs. Thompson was fined $5 and costs.

All of the jurywomen were under 25 years of age. Only one is married. Many of their friends attended the trial and tried to "poke fun" at them.

Less than three minutes was taken to reach a verdict.

The jurors were Miss Emma Mitchell, forewoman; Mrs. Lizzie Mooney, and Misses Elsie Ax, Ruth Brown, Jennie Ward and Ruth Littlefield.

With the exception of Mrs. Mooney and Miss Ax the young women are all stenographers. Miss Ax is society editor for an East St. Louis newspaper.

Coronor Kruse Places Blame for Death of Ernest Werkman.

According to the verdict returned Tuesday evening by Coronor E. H. Kruse, careless driving was the cause of the automobile wreck last week which resulted in the death of Ernest Werkman, assistant manager of the Alt Heidelberg hotel. The coronor finds that Werkman, an inexperienced driver was going at a high rate of speed in a high powered automobile and as a result of his carelessness, the machine left the road at the curve known as Blakey's curve on the Leo road.
